Fierce Pygmy Rebels Attack

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — Fierce pygmy rebels who fight with spears, arrows and machetes were reported marching Monday toward the eastern Congo city of Bukavu after routing five Congo army companies. A report that the United Nations planned to withdraw its civilian personnel from Bukavu set white Europeans to the verge of panic.

UN sources here said rebel Bafulero warriors — five-foot tribesmen led by a pro-Communist extremist — were spotted from the air moving along the road to Bukavu, a city of 80,000 population, including about 500 European whites, in Kivu province.

The UN sources said 180 Nigerian troops of the UN Congo force had been placed on alert for possible airlift to Bukavu from Leopoldville.

Spread of Attacks Feared in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — New York residents have expressed concern that a spread of late-night Negro attacks on whites could spread throughout the city.

One vigilante group has been set up to combat the recent series of Negro assaults on whites and another is in the planning stage.

NOT ORGANIZED

In the last 48 hours, bands of Negro marauders terrorized passengers on four separate subway trains and a Staten Island ferry boat.

The city commission on human rights said Monday the incidents are "not organized, are not part of a plot." The commission said they are spontaneous reactions to discontent by the Negro people over poverty, unemployment, housing and schooling.

State assemblywoman Aileen B. Ryan (Dem. Bronx) urged a

'Political Prisoners'

FLQ 'Punks' Ask Special Treatment

MONTREAL (UPI) — Convicted and suspected Quebec terrorists submitted an ultimatum Monday to provincial authorities demanding special treatment as "political prisoners" under a threat of staging a hunger strike in two weeks.

Copies of a statement signed by "the condemned members of the FLQ-ALQ," and subtitled "Liberty or Death," also were received by news media in the mails yesterday.

The statement was accompanied by a covering letter from "Parti Pris," a separatist newspaper, vouching for its authenticity.

SAME PLACE

The separatists demanded that all convicted and suspects should be "re-united in the same place in Quebec (not in St. Vincent de Paul," the federal penitentiary near Montreal); freedom from compulsory manual work; facilities for private study and the lifting of censorship on reading material.

Impaired Drivers To Go to Jail

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Magistrate D. M. MacDonald warned Monday that he would hand out jail terms of at least 14 days to anyone convicted of impaired driving, even if it is a first offence.

The magistrate said there would be no option of a fine for the first offence.

"Such a course of action will no doubt result in hardship for some, but it will be a hardship brought upon themselves as a result of their utter disregard for the lives and safety of others," he said.

Sheriff Out In Cold

Calypso Singer Held 87 Days New Row Looms

TORONTO (UPI) — The federal immigration department faced further criticism yesterday with disclosure that a Trinidad-born Negro had been released last Friday after spending 87 days imprisoned in Toronto's Don Jail.

Harold Nurse, a Calypso singer and night club entertainer, was released on his own recognition pending further legal action by his attorney. Nurse, who had lived here since 1956 and was married to a Canadian woman, was arrested March 4. A department of immigration inquiry ordered him deported. He appealed the decision, which was upheld by the department in Ottawa March 20.

The deportation order was deferred to permit review of the case, but on May 4 the department decided to proceed with the action. Passage was booked for the man on a plane from here May 13 but he was not aboard when it left.

FLEA REJECTED

Last week a Toronto judge turned down a habeas corpus application and Nurse was booked on a flight last Saturday. But again he was not on the plane.

The case was somewhat similar to that of 27-year-old Harry Hooper, a Buffalo, N.Y., Negro who was held on an immigration department order for 100 days. He was deported last week after the department dropped a charge against him.

TURNED BACK

Nurse, unlike Hooper, was reported to have no criminal record. The case against him apparently was based on the first time he tried to enter Canada in 1956, when he was turned back at the border because he didn't have enough money.

Immigration officials contend the entry refusal constituted deportation, and Nurse re-entered Canada after being deported.

Toronto lawyer Hugh Robertson, who represents Nurse, said he plans to appeal the case to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Laos Worried U.S. Envoys Talk It Over

HONOLULU (AP) — U.S. policy-makers, confronted by a deepening crisis in Laos, went behind closed doors Monday to chart new moves which could include military pressures against Communist North Vietnam.

State Secretary Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara strode into U.S. Pacific Military Command headquarters for the start of two days of intensive strategy talks.

As they did so, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao apparently were trying to break up a coalition with neutralists and rightists.

They announced on the eve of the talks that they no longer recognized neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The U.S. state department refused to recognize the action as signifying collapse of the arrangement which was supposed to have kept Laos neutral in the cold war.

Although this development obviously meant a more serious situation in Southeast Asia, none of the officials taking part in the strategy talks would comment.

Castro Sets Stage

GERM CHARGE NEXT MOVE?

HAVANA (Reuters) — Premier Fidel Castro said Monday night quantities of an unidentified substance had been dropped on Cuban soil from the air and that he was studying whether the United States had launched germ warfare against Cuba.

Shastri Leads India

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Lal Bahadur Shastri was chosen as India's next prime minister this morning after a leading runner-up contender announced his support for the 59-year-old minister without portfolio.

Former finance minister Morarji Desai, one of Shastri's closest rivals for the succession to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru who died Wednesday, said last night the consensus of the ruling Congress party's members of Parliament was that "middle-class leader" Shastri should be elected parliamentary leader and thus become prime minister.

Desai said he had been informed of the party's view on the subject by party president K. Kamaraj.

States Pick Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — California and New York, the two most populous states, today chose their delegates to next month's Republican convention in San Francisco where the party's candidate to contest the November U.S. presidential election will be chosen.

Castro said in a statement handed to foreign correspondents here that a quantity of "brilliant objects" were seen falling to earth in the vicinity of Sancti Spiritus, in Las Villas province, on the morning of May 29.

LIKE HALLOONS

The statement quoted witnesses, including members of the Cuban armed forces, who said the objects looked like balloons of different sizes and appeared to have been launched from a high altitude.

The statement said the "balloons" descended on hitting the earth, "discharging a gelatinous substance which rapidly diluted, similar to that used in the cultivation of bacteria cultures."

WASHED AWAY

Strong rains which fell immediately afterwards made it difficult to collect samples for chemical and biological analysis, Castro said.

"He added: 'The probability has been taken into consideration that imperialism is intending or studying the use of a new and more brutal and inhuman method of aggression—the use of bacteriological and virus weapons against our economy and our people. Orders have been given for the zones to be carefully observed.'

IT'S POSSIBLE

"Although such an action would be of extraordinary gravity and have unpredictable consequences, the lack of scruples of Yankee imperialism, its international conduct on the border of the most elementary standards of law and civilization, and its impotence before the consolidation and advance of our revolution, make it possible to conceive the most monstrous action against our country."

Castro called on the Cuban people to be alert against the new "danger."

First Warnings

Floods Cut Highway

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) — The first flood warnings of the season were heard in the north-central British Columbia Monday after a river and a creek burst their banks.

Pine River swept away a section of the Hart Highway, 164 miles north of here, cutting the artery which links central B.C. to northern Alberta.

Findlay Creek, 150 miles to the west, washed out the approaches to three bridges along a secondary highway leading north toward Topley Landing from Topley.

Highway officials said it would take at least a day to cut a detour around the damaged Hart Highway section.

Ferry Swept Down Peace

HUDSON HOPE, B.C. (CP) — A ferry carrying 12 passengers and five cars was swept down the swift-flowing, swollen Peace River Monday.

Police said a cable, used to guide the ferry across the river, snapped. The swift current pulled both the ferry and the tug that tows it downstream. There was no steering device on the ferry.

The tug pulled close to the ferry to remove passengers before cutting it loose. No one was reported injured.

Butcher-Knife Thug Robs Man of $3,785

By BOB FETTER

A knife-wielding thug took cash and jewelry valued at $3,785 from him at noon yesterday, while he was putting some money in a safe at his home at 750 Market Street, a city trucker told city police.

Kidra Bell told police he had cashed two insurance cheques at the Royal Bank of Canada, at Hillside and Quadra. One of the cheques was for $1,385, the other was for $150.

He pocketed the money, then went to the B.C. Forest mill and returned home. About an hour's time had passed.

He told police he entered his house and was just closing the door of a safe in the back room, having placed $385 inside. He kept $1,100 in his wallet.

He was about to close the safe when a man who was carrying a butcher-knife appeared behind him and told him to leave the safe open.

The man held Mr. Bell at knife point, while he rifled the safe of the $385 and $300 or $400 additional cash and a gold bracelet with five diamonds in a Pakistani design valued at $1,300, the trucker said.

Mr. Bell described the man as "needing a shave."

He took Mr. Bell's wallet with the $1,100 and told him to get into the bathroom.

The thug warned Mr. Bell not to yell and said there was someone waiting outside.

During the time he held the robbery victim at knife point, the thug told Mr. Bell he had seen him draw a large amount of money from the bank, Mr. Bell told police.

Bank employees questioned said they were unable to recall anyone answering the thug's description in the bank.

W. E. Baker, of 753 Market, told police he had seen a man answering the thug's description at about 12:45 p.m. walking on Market Street toward Victoria.

The man was wearing a greenish windbreaker and wearing grey gloves, he said.

Greek-Cypriots Ask About Gun

Canadian Writer Grilled

By DON GAIN

Colonist Military Reporter

NICOSIA — Canadian writer Ralph Allen was questioned yesterday by Greek-Cypriot police about a report that he carried a gun in his car.

But the Nicosia police chief refused to tell reporters who reported Allen or when Allen arrived Friday from Canada.

British and Greek-Cypriot relations are worsening here with continued searching of British civilians and this has resulted in strong protests from the British high commissioner.

A correspondent for a London newspaper was held in the Kyrenia police station for three hours questioning about his possession of Turkish-Cypriot press releases.

If this constitutes an offence, all foreign correspondents are in danger of arrest. Because every day there are releases given to newsmen by the Cyprus Turkish Information Service.

Meanwhile, Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, Turkish-Cypriot vice-president, has called for the United Nations Security Council to grant the UN peace force increased powers to deal with "criminal and constitutional acts" and, if necessary, to take over the government of the island.

Laos Talks Postponed

VIENTIANE (Reuters) — Ambassadors' talks here on the Laotian crisis were postponed Monday until today in the hope more common would join them at the last minute, diplomatic observers said.

The talks were to be held against the background of civil war and the threatened breakdown of the country's coalition government.

Canadian Held

He told Canadian correspondents, "The trend of events clearly indicates that the UN peace force will not be able to accomplish its task of restoring law and order... during the period set down by the Security Council."

"...and an extension of this period now seems unavoidable." The security council laid down that the peace force should restore law and order by the three months ending late June.

WIDER POWERS URGED

"However," he said, "I would like to emphasize, on the basis of past experience, that unless the terms of reference of the peace force are amended to invest them with greater striking power and absolute authority... all efforts of the peace force... will have been wasted."

Universities To Unite In Fund Drive

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's three public universities have agreed to co-operate in financial campaigns.

Dr. John Macdonald of the University of British Columbia said Monday night that negotiations are now going on among UBC, Simon Fraser and the University of Victoria on a joint fund-raising campaign.

Mr. Macdonald, in a talk to the Friends of the University of British Columbia said he is sure that the three can agree on all details of a joint campaign including the allocation of contributions.

later in the Cypriot cabinet, and a frequent spokesman for Kuchuk. Fasil Plumer, has repeated Turkish-Cypriot contentions that President Makarios and the government have consistently violated the constitution by denying Turks their fundamental rights and by encouraging attacks on the Turks.

OCCURRENCES GO ON

Plumer said the UN peace force had not prevented such occurrences and added "under these circumstances if the UN is here 100 or 200 years it will not help."

The Greek-Cypriot Parliament, despite protests from Britain and Turkey, yesterday passed three controversial bills calling for conscription, a buildup of Greek-Cypriot armed forces and the purchase of arms abroad.

NEW WARFARE?

Kuchuk vetoed all three bills, which observers said would bring new island warfare.

The conscription bill provides for the draft of 25,000 men into the island's national guard.

VETO LEGAL

Western diplomats said Kuchuk's veto action was completely legal within the constitution.

Greek-Cypriot spokesmen described Kuchuk as "chief of a band of irregular terrorists acting against the government."

35 MEMBERS

The parliamentary action was carried out by the 35 Greek-Cypriot members. The Turkish-Cypriots have been boycotting parliamentary sessions.

There were reports Makarios planned to buy arms from the Soviet Union because of Greek-Cypriot fear of Turkish intervention. But there was no confirmation of this.

Your Good Health

Finding Pain's Cause No Game; Let Doctor Check, Correct

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 37-year-old man and having trouble passing my urine.

I don't have any pain except a little burning sensation for a short time. I wonder if the problem has anything to do with my prostate gland?—M.S.

This may result from an enlarged prostate gland. There could be other causes but they are not very common. Prostate trouble is.

But why guess about it? Why not just tell your doctor what troubles you are having, and then let him make whatever tests are needed?

NOT A GAME

This isn't a game in which you score points for guessing what ails you. This is a serious business of correcting an ailment as quickly as possible.

The prostate is an unusual organ. It is partly muscle, partly glandular, and it is shaped something like a warped doughnut. It encircles the urethra, through which urine is released, from the bladder.

If the prostate becomes swollen or enlarged it can make the flow of urine difficult or can even make it impossible to empty the bladder completely, which is an invitation to chronic infection. In some cases, surgery is necessary to relieve the condition—and, in fact, may be urgent if it has been allowed to progress too far.

In other cases lesser treatment is adequate. The sooner it is treated the better.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a diabetic and one tablet a day controls my case. I also use a test tape daily and find I can eat a reasonable amount of sweets and it doesn't show on the test tape. Is this safe to do so long as the tape test does not show sugar?—MRS. L.B.S.

You and I may have different ideas as to what constitutes "sweets." To me the word means candy, coffee cake, glazed doughnuts, jam, jelly, desserts, sugar in beverages, and so on.

"A reasonable amount" isn't very definite, either.

If one tablet a day controls your case, you are lucky. But why stretch your back? With diabetes, the body can't handle carbohydrates (starches and sugar) normally. It is possible for your blood sugar level to be elevated without showing on the urine test.

And what about your weight? If you are gaining, it's time to reverse that trend. My advice boils down to "play safe."

Dear Dr. Molner: Recently you implied that one can waste money on vitamins of the type recommended for people in their 30's, 40's and older. What do you advise?—MRS. L.M.

I didn't mean to IMPLY that. I meant to stress that some people ARE wasting money by falling for the fancy sales pitches about super-super guaranteed vitamins and minerals. I'm not opposed to vitamins! But a well-balanced diet gives you all you need.

Canada, U.S. Open Alaska Road Talks

OTTAWA (CP) — Negotiations have begun with the United States on a cost-sharing program for paving the Alaska Highway, Northern Affairs Minister Laing said Monday night in the Commons.

Apparently the U.S. feels that tourism will provide Alaska's future and hence the interest in providing a hard surface for the road link with Alaska via Alberta and British Columbia, he said.

Deportation Plans Due in House Soon

OTTAWA (UPI) — Immigration Minister Rene Tremblay Monday promised to inform the Commons as soon as possible on steps his department may take to prevent persons awaiting deportation decisions from being jailed for an "undue" length of time.

The minister was peppered with questions on his department's handling of the deportation of American Harry Hooper who spent 95 days in Toronto's jail before being sent back to the United States May 26.

Hooper had been deported on three previous occasions, once after violating the Opium and Narcotics Act in Toronto.

Tremblay said he intended to give a report on improvements planned by his department when his estimates came before the Commons. The department had already installed the practice of keeping officials informed of any person who was detained more than a week under deportation proceedings, he said.

Ruby Given Treatment

DALLAS (UPI) — Judge Joe Brown Monday ordered three psychiatrists to treat Jack Ruby in his jail cell and agreed to consider the condemned slayer's formal request for a sanity hearing before a jury.

Treatment, with medication, was to begin last night.

Ruby, who has twice thrown tantrums described as suicidal in his cell, suffered from "depression and regression" according to the judge. His defence attorneys said he is "out in space—completely out of touch with reality."

'Punks' Ask Special Care

Originally 18 members of the now-defunct Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ) were arrested and all were brought to trial except one suspect who jumped bail and fled the country. Several members of the Quebec Liberation Army (ALQ) are awaiting trial on charges connected with armory raids and bank robberies earlier this year.

The statement said all the terrorists would stage a hunger strike "two weeks later" if their demands are not met. "We believe these demands are serious and their authors determined to vindicate their claims," wrote the unnamed Parti Pris accompanying letter.

PUBLIC INTEREST

Inspector Russell Senecal of the Montreal police department's anti-terrorist squad's contingent, told UPI that "giving these young punks publicity is not in the public interest."

"They got too much of that last year and look what happened," said Senecal. "We thought we had smashed the terrorist movement but now we have a new one."

"They are not political prisoners; they are criminals," said Senecal.

Flag Debate Deferred

Leader Diefenbaker's resolution on the flag will proceed in united form rather than being split into two sections—one to deal with a maple leaf flag to succeed the Red Ensign and the other establishing the Union Jack as Canada's Commonwealth symbol.

He also said the new tri-leaf design "looked wonderful" this last weekend when he put it aloft at his official summer residence at nearby Harrington Lake in the Gatineau Hills of Quebec.

FREE COUNTRY

It's a free country, the prime minister said when Mr. Diefenbaker asked "what possible business of the prime minister of Canada is it to use a flag that has not been designated and fly it over a home bought and paid for by the people of Canada as an official residence?"

Later in the Commons, a preview of the pros and cons of the whole flag issue materialized in debate on the motion of J. A. McElin (PC—Elgin). The motion urged the government to consider immediately legislation making the Red Ensign Canada's national flag as desired by the Royal Canadian Legion and the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

The resolution got nowhere in the hour devoted to its scrutiny.

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons gave first reading Monday night to legislation broadening federal housing assistance to homeowners, provinces, municipalities and various local agencies.

The complex, 15-page bill was introduced after a three-hour debate on the preliminary resolution stage.

Main provisions that would be added to the National Housing Act of 1964 are as follows:

1. Mortgage loans for purchase or improvement of existing houses in urban renewal districts.
2. Loans on new housing calculated on the basis of 95 per cent of the first $13,000 of the lending value of the house, instead of $12,000 at present.

Sugar Cut Again

MONTREAL (CP) — Three major sugar refineries Monday announced a 10-cent reduction in the wholesale price of sugar to $11.05 a 100-pound bag. Last price change by the three refineries—Canada and Dominion, Atlantic, and St. Lawrence—was a 15-cent cut May 25.

3. Federal contributions to sewage treatment projects completed before March 31, 1967.
4. Expanded aid to urban renewal and university residence construction.
5. Forgiving 25 per cent of the principal and interest costs of Postmaster-General Jack Nicholson opened the debate on the resolution. Andrew Brewin (NDP—Toronto Greenwood) and Marcel Lemard (BC—Lac St. Jean) congratulated the government for its main proposals.

In Cyprus, Uneasy Eden

Red Blooms, Blue Beret Offer Typical Contrast

By DON GAIN
Colonist Military Reporter

NICOSIA, Cyprus—Birds chirp under the brilliant sun outside my room in the Ledra Palace Hotel.

But at the end of the hotel corridor, UN soldiers are on sentry duty behind sandbags. Eucalyptus trees quiver in the warm breeze. Beneath them is a roadblock.

of light blue where its wearer stands at his post.

This is Cyprus, the uneasy Eden.

There now are nearly 7,000 in the UN force on Cyprus, 1,200 of them Canadians, keeping Greek and Turk at arm's length.

In many places on the island, it is not much more than an arm's length.

Here in Nicosia, the Green Line (actually painted green) divides the two factions but in other cities, such as Famagusta and Kyrenia, there is no green line. Turks keep to their quarters and Greeks to theirs.

In the case of families who lived in "enemy" territory, this has meant tearing up roots, closing business and disrupting services and trades.

TRADE CONTINUES

But, even though Greek and Turk are shooting at each other, trade must go on. Exchange of produce and goods is carried on at checkpoints.

Ships are loaded and unloaded at the port of Famagusta by longshoremen from both sides.

At night there is no mingling. Sporadic shooting occurs every day. There was a UN casualty last week, a Finnish soldier killed by Turkish-Cypriots by mistake as a group of Finns searched for a disabled vehicle.

LIFE GOES ON

Life goes on, like this:

● Two Greek-Cypriots have been charged with assaulting a Turkish journalist on his way back to the Turkish quarter here after a press conference.

● Two Greeks complained to the gendarmerie that seven carob and three olive trees of theirs were cut down by Turks.

● "A pregnant cow, valued at 80 pounds" was found by Greeks and turned over "with a newly-born heifer" to its Turkish owner in the presence of a UN Canadian officer.

World in Brief

French Canadians French In Every Way—de Gaulle

PARIS — President de Gaulle said Monday French Canadians were "French in every respect except sovereignty".

De Gaulle advertised France's interest in current developments in Canada while receiving Ottawa's new Ambassador Jules Leger.

Replying to Mr. Leger's call for a closer French association with Canada's rapid economic development, de Gaulle made it clear France was interested in tightening relations with Canada in other fields as well.

LONDON — Communist China yesterday formally refused to take part in British-proposed consultations in Vietnam aimed at resolving the potentially-explosive crisis in Laos which threatens to engulf all of south-east Asia.

Peking denounced the talks as a manoeuvre to whitewash the United States which it said was to blame for the deteriorating situation in Laos.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia—Malaysia said Monday a summit meeting with Indonesia and the Philippines on the Malaysian dispute may be delayed because of Indonesian qualifications on terms.

The issue involved a statement by the Indonesian foreign office that withdrawal of Indonesian guerrillas from Malaysia Borneo would depend on progress of the negotiations. Malaysia wants "substantial withdrawal" of guerrillas before the talks begin.

HONOLULU — Spurred by increased Communist pressure in Viet Nam and growing tension in Laos, the U.S. government's top diplomatic and military planners gathered yesterday to decide what to do about Southeast Asia.

The two-day meeting was expected to produce an increasingly tough stance on the part of the West.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk led the conference.

CAIRO—Fugitive Nazi war criminal Hans Walter Zech-Nennrich has left here for Ethiopia, at the "suggestion" of Egyptian authorities, informed diplomatic sources said.

The German came here at the end of April after breaking out of prison in Germany after being tried and convicted for war crimes.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland—An appellate court Monday reduced to a charge of manslaughter by negligence the conviction of a Swiss doctor in the death of American socialite millionaire Marjorie (Winnie) Bird and cut his prison sentence by two years. Dr. Gerhard Savoy was sentenced to seven years last March on charges of manslaughter of Mrs. Bird, 64, of Pevely, Mo., and Oyster Bay, N.Y., who died in Lausanne July 22, 1961, while under his treatment.

GEORGETOWN — U.S.-born Mrs. Janet Jagan resigned tearfully Monday as home minister in her husband's British Guiana government and accused the British-led police of "brazen discrimination" during recent racial trouble in this British colony.

MOSCOW — The United States and Russia yesterday signed an agreement which gives American officials the right for the first time to talk to U.S. citizens arrested or jailed by the Soviet government.

RAWALPINDI — Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan said Monday night Pakistan and India, often unfriendly neighbors, should now "have a fresh look at our relationship." The Indo-Pakistani Kashmir dispute must be settled, he declared.

NEW DELHI — The ashes of Prime Minister Nehru, mixed with the sandalwood remnants of his pyre and borne in eight engraved copper urns, will be strewn amid Hindu rites into the nine sacred rivers of India. The body of the Indian leader

Legislative Fire Launches Query

QUEBEC (CP)—The Quebec fire commissioner's office is investigating a fire which broke out Monday in the cellar furnace room of the Quebec legislature buildings. The fire was quickly extinguished.

Three Fires Injure 18

MONTREAL (CP)—Eighteen firemen were injured and 50 people left homeless in three major weekend fires in Montreal. Only one of the firemen was seriously hurt, Lieut. Alfred Verville sustaining eye injuries. Most of them were treated in hospital for an overdose of smoke.

Imperial Price Cut Not Yet Passed On

VANCOUVER (CP)—Imperial Oil Limited has cut the wholesale price of gasoline to its interior dealers by 1.5 cents a gallon but those dealers so far have not generally cut the retail price.

Imperial Oil disclosed the wholesale price cut in the fourth day of its massive submission to the royal commission on gasoline prices.

No reason was given for the wholesale cut. An Imperial spokesman later told reporters that Imperial dealers in the interior had not yet made correponding reductions in their retail price for gasoline.

The wholesale reduction, similar to ones being made in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will not affect Imperial's commercial or retail prices in Vancouver, Victoria or Nanaimo, which are on a consignment basis set by the supplier.

Imperial recently boosted the retail price in Vancouver two cents a gallon. Other dealers followed suit.

Imperial also said persons who seek the same price for gasoline in all areas of B.C. are ignoring different competitive market conditions and supply costs.

Imperial said that in Trail, for example, the price of a gallon of gasoline is lower by eight cents today than it was 10 years ago.

Another important factor often forgotten, said the Imperial submission, is that the dealer's margin varies "from a low of seven cents a gallon in Vancouver to a high of 11.7 cents in Prince Rupert."

Air Canada Becomes Official

MONTREAL (UPI)—Canada's government-owned airline—Trans-Canada Air Lines—today became "Air Canada" throughout the system's domestic as well as international points of call.

Following royal assent on March 30, granting the carrier permission for the name change, TCA now becomes Air Canada—the name which has been used in Quebec and overseas since 1953—on all telephone answering services, flight departures, arrivals, flight information and publicity and promotional material will in future be designated "Air Canada."

The effective legal date will be announced by governor-in-council proclamation late this year or in January, 1965.

Boer Anniversary Bomb Deactivated

QUEBEC (CP)—Three police forces were today probing the origins of a time bomb which was deactivated shortly before it was set to go off at a Boer War monument on the 62nd anniversary of the ending of the war.

The bomb was discovered Sunday—May 31—and it was on May 31, 1902, that the war between British forces and Dutch-speaking Boers in what now is independent South Africa was brought to an end by the treaty of Vereeniging.

A spokesman for the provincial police said the nature of the monument made it seem possible that the bomb was planted by "a terrorist of some kind."

On the Cheap

THE MAN WHOSE bequest made possible the $400,000 renovation of the Centennial Square theatre to be known as the McPherson Playhouse, will be honored by the city with a viable tribute to his memory.

Not in overly generous fashion, however. A proposal to erect a bust or hang a painting of the late T. S. McPherson in the theatre has been rejected by the civic planning committee, and instead a stone plaque, all of 20 inches square, will be placed outside the theatre entrance.

This will be akin to the stone at Clover Point which marks the landing place of the city's founder, Sir James Douglas, and which motorists drive past every day without giving it a thought.

It is said that Mr. McPherson was a modest man who would not want a great memorial, an excuse that begs the question but does not solve the conundrum. It is said further that a chance is taken in commissioning a piece of sculpture because one never knows how it will turn out.

By this reasoning no sculpture would ever be commissioned anywhere in the world.

Mr. McPherson bequeathed around one million dollars to the city, a sum growing to a quarter greater by the nature of the bequest, by far the most munificent gift ever made to this city.

His memorial should be worthy of his philanthropy.

It might well embrace not a plaque or a bust or a painting but in fact all three, displayed within the vestibule of the theatre where patrons could both see and read of the fine benefactor to whom they owe the building that will serve them so well.

And the proposed stone will cost the vast sum of $300!

If this is how the city intends to show its appreciation of a bequest that is of such immense benefit to the community it ought to be ashamed of its cheapness.

The Strangers' Flag

SINCE MAY 22 the Daily Colonist has prominently displayed on its front page a depiction of the Canadian Red Ensign encircled by the words: "Our flag since 1892. Why change it?"

On May 29 no less a person than the Prime Minister of Canada, the Rt. Hon. Lester B. Pearson, answered the question asked with these words: "... the absence of certain normal and distinctive symbols of national sovereignty have helped to create in the minds of strangers ... the mistaken idea that we are not really an independent country like others."

"That is why it is important to bring the external appearance of things into accord with the reality of Canada's proud position in the world."

In other words, Mr. Pearson sees his new flag not as a symbol to meet the needs or the nationalistic desires of his fellow Canadians but as something to provide a simple visual aid for strangers with mistaken ideas.

Mr. Pearson's explanation must be rejected because it is not only illogical but also insulting to all Canadians whatever their personal preference for a national flag may be.

He Can't Mean Us

CANADA'S centennial commissioner, Mr. John Fisher, is critical of the way some communities are planning to spend the money that will be granted to them by the federal and provincial governments to help them commemorate and celebrate the 100th anniversary of confederation. Too many, Mr. Fisher says, are thinking of using the grants to build essential structures—such as fire halls and police stations—and thus to hold down their mill rates.

This complaint need not directly disturb the local serenity because he simply cannot include Greater Victoria among the culprits. Victoria and its immediate municipal neighbors have done no wrong in this respect. How could they when in preparation for the national celebration they have done and are doing, to all appearances, practically nothing?

The 1967 anniversary, true enough, is still some distance off. But not far enough away to permit complacent drifting toward it much longer. There will be two aspects of the birthday. One will be its commemoration in lasting form by a project in which, it is to be hoped, all the municipal units of the metropolitan area will combine their efforts and resources. The other will be a program of rejoicing and congratulation which in Mr. Fisher's words should include "lots of fun, fireworks and ceremonial—and attention to the serious side too: our cultural enrichment, things of the spirit, and fostering Canadian unity."

The achievement of success in both respects will demand an enormous amount of consideration and planning. It is high time for Greater Victoria's representatives at least to begin to come to grips with the various ideas floating around for a joint centennial project—an auditorium on the university campus, Gorge improvement and expansion of the Memorial Arena have been suggested, and there should be others—to evaluate their relative worth and practicality.

Siberiasaurus

IT WAS ABOUT time the Soviet Union was getting into the act, and the surprise is it has waited so long.

How could it have overlooked the sea serpent, when it claims in so many other ways to have the biggest, the best, or "first" of anything.

But amend is being made; a veritable "hair-raising" denizen of a deep lake has surfaced in Siberia to set everyone a fluttering. It eats dogs, reindeer and human beings.

This far outdoes Loch Ness' famed sea serpent, said to be getting ready to let itself be glimpsed now that the tourist season is approaching. It, however, as is well known, simply pops up and then dives for cover when it sees a camera. So also does our own pet creature of this kind, Cadborosaurus, which has been so shy in recent years it hasn't even come up for air in our coastal precincts.

Perhaps each has heard of the Soviet serpent and feels disconcerted.

The Siberian monster roars like a sputnik, is like a barrel with a horn rudder, raises fountains of water and has eyes seven feet apart.

Alas, the West has been outmatched; our sea serpents are benign by comparison and far too well behaved.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes, and ships, and sailing seas."

By TOM TAYLOR

IT WAS a pacific piece, I thought, when I wrote the other day about how the Union Jack itself had been fashioned. But the path of flags, emblems, titular national distinctions in a tenuous one to tread these days.

A reader from Shakespeare's half of the "accepted tale" rebukes me for referring to the king's author of the Union flag as James VI. He should have been cited as James I, he said.

Knowing there had been five Jameses before him in the land from which he came, and having had the House of Stewart drummed into me at school, I unconsciously described him as the sixth of his line.

But if we are to be precise and particular lest delicacy be offended he was not James I either. James I, period, I mean. He was a dual monarch over two different countries, each claiming him as a separate king.

Correctly he was James I and VI, as he was so titled in the period of his kingships and so frequently still described in historical reference.

The union, later symbolized by the flag he invoked, came a century later.

For that matter, if one felt so disposed, one could raise an eyebrow over the numerical distinction given to our present Queen's title—Elizabeth II.

It has even less validity than that to which I gave exclusive attachment to the aforesaid King James. The first Elizabeth of her gracious land did not rule over Britain, per se, but over England.

There was no Great Britain as such in her day; and so she could not be Elizabeth I of the United Kingdom, to cite the official nomenclature of the present monarch of the British realm.

Who in truth is the first of her reigning ilk.

Similarly, one might note in passing, the Queen, who is coming to her North American realm this summer to pleasing and welcome acclaim, I hope, is coming as Queen of Canada, and indisputably she is the first Elizabeth of monarchical status to do so.

Her namesake and Tudor predecessor had long since gone to her rest before she ever heard of "Canada."

More than this writer makes erroneous employment of numerical titles, you see.

Bearing somewhat on the same theme, certainly allied in current disputations, context, were two recent remarks of Mr. Pearson's when discussing flags and their associated national connotations.

He told an Ontario audience it was important to have a new flag so that strangers could appreciate our independent sovereignty.

That in itself is true, but there is much more to a national symbol surely. If not it is surprising that any nation bothers to fly its flag within its own borders. Strangers entering a country from outside usually know the identity of the land they enter.

But if the new flag is primarily for "strangers" this might enable the prime minister to escape from what undoubtedly is a rather sticky position.

It can be authorized to be flown abroad only, there thus being no need to fly it at home at all. That at least should quieten the atmosphere.

I could not help but be intrigued by Mr. Pearson's statement, to wit: "We have created a nation ... on a founding partnership of two peoples with two official languages and two cultures ..."

I had never before thought of the Plains of Abraham as the locale of a merger, and indeed if this was so history has been more than a little misled.

It has not suggested to us that Wolfe sailed up the St. Lawrence with a partnership in mind, and I doubt that Montcalm met him in a like spirit of convention.

Their respective terms of reference must have gone astray, for the founding partnership proved to be rather a sanguinary affair, with both leaders coming like the merger to a summary end.

I sincerely trust the leaders of the current "partnership" attempt escape the fate of their predecessors.

Today In History

By The Canadian Press

The first French raid on Canada was launched 38 years ago today—in 1826. Led by John O'Neill, about 300 Fenians crossed into Canada near Fort Erie and encamped at Ridgeway, Ont. Eventually, a strong body of Canadian forces pushed them back. The Canadians suffered about 10 killed and 40 wounded. The Fenians lost probably twice as many.

1948—Seven wartime Nazi doctors who experimented on prisoners were hanged at Landsberg prison.

1953—Queen Elizabeth was crowned.

A Weakness in the Opposition

By RICHARD JACKSON,
Colonist Ottawa Bureau

THIS is the sad story of what still persists as a blind spot in the Opposition operation in Parliament.

If the Opposition ever was really serious about leading a national rally around the Red Ensign in the fight for the flag, it was a lost cause almost from the start.

Organizationally, too many things are lacking.

And while it perhaps wasn't the most important of the many missing links, the Opposition's self-imposed isolation from the working press here in Parliament could have been a key factor.

Except for a small handful of Opposition backbenchers such as Robert Coates from Cumberland and Clifford Smallwood from Battle River-Camrose, the press corps was kept at a cool arm's length.

Opposition doors were shut in its face.

Those of the press corps who took the trouble to ring on the phone or call in person at Opposition offices, hoping to find out how "The Other Side" felt in the flag issue, were rebuffed.

Often refused. Not only were they refused information, they were ordered to report nothing for the good and simple reason there was nothing to report. Not even, so help us Hannah, as much as a safe "no comment."

Nobody in a position to officially speak for the Opposition would be quoted.

Anything the Opposition had to say, it was made bluntly plain, would be said in Parliament, not in the press.

Now this might be the best sort of parliamentary procedure. All very proper and fitting. Just as it should be, according to the parliamentary book of rules—but that was written in another day, even ago, before the explosive expansion of what has become known as "mass communication"—high speed presses, multiple editions.

Reversed Obsolescence

From the Toronto Daily Star

NIKITA Khrushchev has hit upon what may be the perfect plan for world disarmament—and to do it he's borrowed and reversed the capitalistic principle of built-in obsolescence.

Reports say Russia has replaced its first-class rockets on Cuba with older, almost obsolete, ones. They've also removed ultra-modern radar and installed out-of-date equipment in its place.

Let us suppose both Russia and the United States adopted a similar policy towards all their allies.

After replacing new rockets with old, they could replace old rockets with bombers and nuclear warheads with dynamite. Next, bombers would give way to horse-drawn howitzers and dynamite to gunpowder, and so on through flintlock rifles, crossbows, spears and clubs.

Within 25 years or so both United States and Russia could reduce their military aid to shipments of nicely rounded stones.

fast trucks, good highways, radio, television.

So the Opposition saved what it had to say for Parliament.

Catch was, the REAL battle, the battle for the hearts and minds of the voters, was fought and lost by default by the silent Opposition before it ever reached Parliament.

For while the Opposition played it with tight buttoned lips, the government side of the flag question was coming up with answers—a lot of them even before they were asked.

The story was leaked, and few will deny it—by the prime minister's office that the Maple Leaf was "it" for the flag and that the government would run it up the pole no matter who asked or tried to shoot it down.

Wise, it was leaked—or "flooded," might be a better word fit to anybody who cared to show an interest.—Liberal, Conservative or non-partisan.

Among the nearly 150 men who daily write the running story of Parliament.

Before the House of Commons knew—perhaps even before the Liberal caucus was told—the press corps was tipped off.

The PM had his flag. On it he would stand or fall. Better still, from the way the press corps sees such things, phones rang here and there.

On the other end of the line could be Dick O'Hagen, the prime minister's special assistant, or James Regan, his press secretary, both personable men on a familiar and often first-name basis with the newsmen.

"Thought you'd like to know how the mail is running," they would offer, and then tell that the letters, phone calls, telegrams were pouring in. All in hearty support—or almost all, that is, except for a negligible 10 or 20 per cent or so—of the PM and his flag.

"Thought you might like to know pictures of the flag—all unofficial, of course—and not of the flag, really, as such, but simply of ideas for its design—will be available if you have your cameramen on deck tonight."

And so it went.

"Thought you'd like to know."

Now there's nothing wrong with this kind of thing. It makes only good common modern day sense that if you have a story to tell, a cause to sell, you tell it and sell it.

And if you make it easy and pleasant for the people whose business it is—like the press corps—to tell, then you make it just that much easier for yourself to sell.

But the Opposition just can't seem to understand the simple basic truth of this. Too bad. For the Opposition.

Commonwealth a Farce?

Astonishing Strength and Warmth

By CASSANDRA from Fort St. John

YOU know there is a great deal of civility in this Commonwealth of ours—especially in Australia and Canada.

The other day when I was in Sydney in a bar, a gigantic Aussie ambled up to me and with a genial grin said: "Hey, Pommy! Wanna fight?"

I said I could do without it. He said: "Some Pommys seem kinda lost without a fight and I only wanted to oblige. Good-on-ye-mate."

I call that real charm with just a hint of the courtly elegance of Old Vienna about it. And now there is this flaming business about the oil well.

The oil well is in the northeast of British Columbia—a rich and lovely part of Canada not all that far from the Yukon.

I know a man who owns an oil well up there, and if you think I'm swanking, you're dead right.

This gentleman said to me: "I have an oil well. I would be happy to set fire to it for your relaxation should you so desire it."

The old incendiary in me blazed up at this and I said that nothing would enchant me more.

I felt sure that a blazing oil well and I would get on like a house on fire.

We went to the middle of a field out of which emerged a pipe-line, some tanks and a wheel-valve. In the middle of the field was what appeared to be a very large bomb crater.

Someone turned the valve and then, with a roar that was louder than a quartet of jet engines, the well caught fire and a cauldron of yellow and orange flame, higher than a five-storey house, sprang to life. It thundered and it billowed.

A pall of thick black smoke almost blotted the sunlight out.

From the Scriptures

Can It Survive?

Tanzan's Future

By COLIN LEGUM
from London

THE revolution in Zanzibar and the mutiny in Tanganyika earlier this year naturally raised questions about the future of the recently-formed United Republic of Tanganyika and Zanzibar—popularly known as Tanzania. Can the republic survive? Will the leftist Zanzibari leaders swallow the genuinely non-aligned leaders of Tanzania?

The answer to such questions depends on the success of the first of three five-year plans which President Nyerere has launched.

Success depends on two factors: the mobilization of the human and physical resources of the republic's ten million people, and the infusion of capital and technical assistance to sustain a vast program of social mobilization.

The targets set by President Nyerere are by no means modest. In physical terms the aim is to double the per capita annual income from just over $19 to $45 by 1980, and to increase life expectancy from the present low average of 35-40 years to 50 years.

To achieve these targets the first five-year plan seeks to modernize the republic's entire social and economic structure. Agriculture is to be considerably boosted by improving present methods and by transforming systems of farming through programs calling for large investments of capital. But to establish a proper balance between agriculture and industry, the need is to achieve a rate of industrial growth twice that of agriculture.

Expenditure of £246 million is envisaged under the first plan, allowing for the investment of £50 million annually. Of this total, £116 million must come from private investment—much of it from overseas. Tanzania's planners acknowledge that private investors will only be attracted if they can export their profits. These conditions we must accept."

The present plan covers only the needs of Tanganyika; a second plan to take care of Zanzibar needs is being prepared. The plan relates Tanzania's development to the existing East African Common Market which Tanzania shares with Uganda and Kenya. There should be no difficulty about integrating it into a wider development plan if an East African Federation is achieved within the next few years.

Tanzania's leaders have emphasized that if their development plan were to receive as much practical aid from their friends as the amount of free advice offered during the months following the revolution, and multitudes in East Africa, there would be no reason to doubt the success of the challenging task to which they are now committed.

gambler is in on it and a bonanza for Canada and Canadians is at hand.

In British Columbia, in addition to precious minerals, they have coal, sulphur, clay, limestone and sand. There is unlimited lumber and vast new hydro-electric power schemes.

There are abundant fish in the lakes, the rivers and the sea—salmon, halibut, sole, cod, herring, crab, oysters, smelts and clams.

On the land there is natural gas and oil, beef, grain, apples, peaches, grapes, apricots, cherries and pears.

In the great prairies of Saskatchewan and Alberta there is wheat stretching endlessly on land as flat as an ocean on a calm day. Nothing but corn and the towering grain elevators.

This is an abundant land. A gentleman from Whitehall has recently called the Commonwealth a "farce."

That is his own view but I was astonished at the strength and the warmth that these Canadians still feel towards the British.

They are not flanneling. They actually like us.

At once a voice arose among them.

The bleak twigs overhead in a full-hearted evening. Of joy illumined; An aged thrush, frail, gaunt, and small, In blast-buffeted plumage, Had chosen thus to fling his soul Upon the growing gloom. So little cause for carolings Of such ecstatic sound Was written on terrestrial things.

Afar or nigh around, That I could think there trembled through His happy good-night air Some blessed Hope, whereof he knew And I was unaware.

—Thomas Hardy.

With the Classics

To this there is one notable exception—the French-Canadians. Their regard for the British is about as warm as de Gaulle's, and it is possible that the strong separatist movement in Quebec gains inspiration from that stubborn old man's chauvinist views.

Not only do the French-Canadians not care for the British but they are bitter and hostile towards the "Canadian" Canadians who, they claim, treat them as second-class citizens.

The land of the maple leaf is not all milk and honey and, far from those who read mytic signs in flags and banners, it may be of interest that the old red Canadian flag with the Union Jack on it may be replaced by a white flag with three maple leaves—and no Union Jack.

Council Allows Marina Home

Permission will be granted W. J. Worwick, proprietor of West Bay Marina, to build a residence on property adjoining his business premises providing all the property is consolidated, Esquimalt council decided last night.

Capital Region Planning Board who made a survey of marinas at the request of council pointed out in a letter read last night that of 13 marinas surveyed all but one had homes on the property.

Council will continue to plump for a breakwater at Flemish Beach.

In a report last night Coun. Walter Lock asked that council send a letter to Victoria MP David Gross requesting a breakwater at the well-used beach.

A vote to pay part of the costs of converting the former juvenile home on Oakharbour to a family and children's court was passed by council. Cost of the conversion to Esquimalt will be close to $500.

Firm Can Sue Union

Picketing at Harmac Ended by Injunction

Lake Land Likely For Saanich

Saanich may yet, with provincial backing, acquire the Victoria-owned Elk-Beaver Lake property, Saanich council learned last night.

Reporting on a meeting between municipal officials and Recreation Minister Kiernan, Reeve Stanley Murphy said the minister was sympathetic. However, early action was unlikely—and councilors said the reeve should not worry too much about the $538,000 suggested as a fair price if Saanich were able to buy the land from Victoria for a park.

Dispute Settled

WASHINGTON (AP)—A contract settlement between Western Union and some 24,000 telegraphers was reached Monday.

The B.C. Supreme Court in Vancouver yesterday ordered striking Port Alberni office workers to withdraw picket lines set up earlier in the day around the big Nanaimo plant of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd.

The court also gave Mac-Powell permission to sue the striking Local 15 of the Office Employees' International Union on five counts, including wrongful picketing.

Granting of an injunction by Mr. Justice M. M. McFarlane climaxed a day which included these developments:

- Top-secret talks over several days held separately by the labor department with Mac-Powell and the Office Employees' International Union left "no hope" of a settlement.
- Labor Minister Peterson said his department will keep in daily touch with the two sides.
- The B.C. Federation of Labor warned "an extremely serious situation is developing" and charged the dispute could be "settled in half an hour" by granting union security.
- NDP opposition leader Robert Strachan said he will protest the manner in which the injunction was served.
- Three pickets from Port Alberni, who declined to give their names, appeared in front of the Harmac plant at 7 a.m.
- The 800-man Harmac day shift, arriving for work at 8 a.m., honored the three-member line and RCMP had to be called to break up a traffic jam backed up more than a mile from the mill.
- More than 100 workers from the graveyard shift stayed on the job to begin shutting-down operations.
- Mill general manager Elmer Walloe and personnel manager R. E. Chapman went to Vancouver to seek the injunction and the shutting-down work stopped about 11 a.m.
- The 4 p.m. shift went on duty as scheduled.
- The office union has two days to appear in court against the injunction.
- Attached to the injunction was a writ giving Mac-Powell a year to pursue a civil action in which it could sue the office union local on five counts—wrongful picketing, creating a nuisance, inducing breach of contract, interfering with business and breaching the Trade Union Act.

Nanaimo Sheriff Frank Hodgson read the four-page injunction in full at the picket line, at the insistence of Mr. Strachan, who held an umbrella over a picketer and himself but not the sheriff.

The NDP leader later criticized the sheriff for arriving at the mill by boat to avoid crossing the picket line. He said he would lodge a formal protest with the attorney-general's department.

Mr. Peterson said all levels of his department conducted separate talks all last week without success.

Compromise proposals of unstated nature were made, he said, and while at times "we were very close to a settlement, we still couldn't get them to go the last little bit."

Road to Bamfield

New Area Opened

By MARGARET TREBETT

BAMFIELD — A new era in the history of Vancouver Island began at noon Sunday when a ribbon was cut at a new bridge over the nearby Pachena River and the Bamfield area was officially linked by road with the rest of the Island.

The population of this once-isolated hamlet of 250 souls was almost doubled by guests at the long-awaited ceremony.

BUS AND CAR

Sam Lane of Esquimalt, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island, led the group of about 150 who travelled by bus and private car over the new Alberni-Bamfield link.

The link follows MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River logging roads for the first 60 or so miles from the Albernis.

At the Pachena River, two miles from Bamfield, it crosses the bridge whose construction by the provincial government last year was the key to completion of the project.

Bamfield Chamber of Commerce president Roald Ostrom told of sporadic efforts over half a century as successive generations envisioned the road until, finally, Mac-Powell Ltd. roads were within three miles of the community and the provincial government was persuaded to build the bridge and the last stretch.

Winnipeg Branch

U.S. Bank Expands

As Canadians Still Await Charter

By HARRY YOUNG Colonist Business Editor

While three Canadian groups are waiting hopefully, if not patiently, for the government to grant them charters to open new banks, Canada's only U.S. controlled bank is pushing ahead with a vigorous expansion program.

The Mercantile Bank of Canada announced Monday it would open a branch in Winnipeg this month to be added to its existing facilities in Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver.

This will take it into the chief hunting grounds of the Bank of Western Canada, one of the three whose application to get under way is being held up at Ottawa.

Last September, management of the Mercantile Bank of Canada was taken over by the First National City Bank of New York, which purchased 50 per cent of the shares from the founders, the Rotterdam Bank of Holland.

FIRST STEP

With James G. Rockefeller as president and R. P. McFadden as vice-president, First National now tightly holds the reins at Mercantile and the opening of the Winnipeg branch is expected to be only a first in the expansion and development of the one-time Dutch managed bank.

Mercantile offers a full range of banking services but it places its main emphasis on the development of overseas business by Canadian companies, and in handling foreign money in Canada.

It could turn out to be a very real rival to the Bank of Western Canada, to be headed by James E. Coyne, former governor of the Bank of Canada, and also to the government-sponsored Bank of British Columbia, and the Laurentide Bank of Canada, which like the B.C. Bank would be headquartered in Vancouver.

BETWEEN RESULTS

British Columbia's big Highland Valley mining operator Bethlehem Copper Corporation made net earnings of $2,822,564 (66.1 cents a share) in the fiscal year ended Feb. 29, 1964. H. H. Huettner, president, said that in its first full year of operation Bethlehem had generated $3,072,879 cash (77.6 cents), and the net earnings were after allowing $237,115 for depreciation.

Preproduction and development expenses amounted to $3,478,000 will not be claimed until after Nov. 30, 1965, when the company's tax free period will have elapsed. It will then be claimed as tax allowance.

The debt of $5,000,000 to the Sumitomo group of companies in Japan has been reduced by $2,186,876 and would be completely cleared by the end of the current fiscal year.

Early next year Bethlehem is expected to pay its first quarterly dividends, at an anticipated rate of 40 cents a year.

The present expansion program will increase the present productive capacity from 3,900 tons a day to 6,000 tons at which capacity the company expects to net $5,000,000 a year.

The report gave no definite news on the drilling now proceeding on the Huettner zone, but mine manager D. W. Pringle said results are most encouraging and drilling will continue through 1964. President Huettner went a little further. He said it appeared certain the Huettner zone would provide an ore body of a size at least similar to the Jersey zone where the tonnage is listed at 36,145,000 tons of 7 per cent copper.

The Jersey zone will keep the 6,000-ton mill going for 17 years, and Mr. Huettner said that with the other potential zones, he could confidently predict plant expansion to 10,000 tons within two years.

MORE GAS WANTED

A California firm wants to buy an additional 233,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas a day from Alberta fields.

An application for the increase is being made by Alberta and Southern Gas Co. Ltd., controlled by Pacific Gas and Electric of San Francisco, and will be heard this week before Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board.

Alberta and Southern at present is exporting 432,000,000 cubic feet a day. The extra gas is required by the Montana Power Company, and by Pacific Gas and Electric for distribution in the San Francisco area.

NICOLSON RETIRES

After 41 years service with Great West Life Assurance Company Ltd. Jack Nicolson has retired from his position as manager of the Victoria branch.

He is succeeded by John N. Glover, formerly a supervisor with GW in Vancouver.

Take-Over

Declared

Invalid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court ruled Monday acquisition by the Aluminum Company of America (Alcoa) of the Rome Cable Corporation violated the U.S. anti-trust law.

The Justice department asked the court to rule the acquisition invalid on the ground its effect may be to lessen competition substantially in violation of the anti-trust law. The acquisition occurred in 1958.

Copper Find Confirmed

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP) — Rumors of a major copper ore discovery in the Cranberry Portage area of northwestern Manitoba were confirmed Monday when the first official assay reports were released by an official of a Calgary-based oil company.

Ray Skogberg, explorations manager for Kenora Petroleum Corp. Ltd., said in a prepared statement the first official assays indicated 19.23 per cent copper in a seven-foot width sample and an assay over a 12-foot width is "still awaited but estimated to run 11 per cent copper."

LARGE ORE BODY

It was reported Friday that two veteran prospectors from The Pas, Man., Philip Bachnik and Harry Howell, had discovered a large copper ore body on their trapline which they operated about five miles northeast of Cranberry Portage, 370 miles northwest of Winnipeg and 30 miles southeast of this mining community of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan border.

A government mines department official in Winnipeg Monday said Howell and Bachnik registered 36 claims May 13.

ALBERTA DISTILLERS, LIMITED

The offer of National Distillers and Chemical Corporation ("National") to purchase the outstanding shares of Alberta Distillers, Limited ("Alberta Distillers") for $4 per share (Canadian funds) has been declared effective on June 1, 1964.

PAYMENT WILL BE MADE ON OR ABOUT JUNE 5, 1964 FOR SHARES DEPOSITED BEFORE THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON JUNE 1, 1964.

The voting trust under which voting trust certificates representing shares of Alberta Distillers were issued was terminated on May 25, 1964, and as a result the holders of voting trust certificates who did not deposit them with instructions that the offer be accepted are now entitled to receive shares of Alberta Distillers or cash payment for each share.

NATIONAL'S OFFER TO PURCHASE SHARES OF ALBERTA DISTILLERS WILL REMAIN OPEN UNTIL THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON AUGUST 17, 1964. AT WHICH TIME IT WILL TERMINATE. PAYMENT WILL BE MADE PROMPTLY FOR SHARES DEPOSITED ON OR BEFORE THAT DATE.

Holders of shares who desire to accept the offer should deposit the shares with The Royal Trust Company, P.O. Box 2031, Vancouver 3, B.C., together with a properly executed Letter of Acceptance and Transmittal.

Holders of voting trust certificates who desire to accept the offer should either (1) deliver their voting trust certificates to Eastern & Chartered Trust Company, 609-8th Avenue West, Calgary, Alberta, for the issuance to such holders of share certificates

Low, Low Temperatures

Maximum temperatures recorded during three days last month were the lowest maximums recorded for many years, a spokesman at Gonzales weather station said yesterday.

They were 48.6 degrees on May 12 — previous lowest maximum was 51.8 in 1927 — 51.1 on May 20, the previous lowest maximum being 52 in 1905, and 48.4 on May 21, the previous lowest maximum being 52.6 in 1931.

BELOW NORMAL.
Mean temperature during May was 51.4, 2.7 below normal.

Maximum temperature was 74.9 on May 31, and minimum 37.8 on May 2. Rainfall was 0.47 inches, 0.43 below normal and ground frost was 29.2 on May 2.

NORMAL:

Number of days of measurable precipitation was nine, which is normal.

Total hours of sunshine was 264.3, or 10.7 below normal.

Average wind speed was 11.5 miles an hour, 0.2 below normal.

BELOW NORMAL.

Total precipitation since Jan. 1, was 12.02 inches, .06 below normal and total hours of sunshine 768.7, 29.8 below normal.

The thunderstorm and heavy showers which brought in June was welcomed by farmers, gardeners and berry growers after the last three hot days of May.

MORE OF SAME

And an official at the weather office forecast more cloud and scattered showers for today.

"There won't be much change for the next day or so," he said.

Mount Douglas

Reunion For Students

Arrangements are going ahead for a reunion dance for former Mount Douglas High School students to be staged at Gordon Head Hall, June 13.

Three staff members still serving at the school — now Mount Douglas Senior Secondary — will be there. They are principal Eric Foster, vice-principal James Muir and Mrs. Hilda Sampson.

RESERVATIONS
Reservations can be made with Mrs. Nancy Craig, 4086 Gordon Head Road, GR 7-2823.

The dance is for ex-students who attended between 1939 and 1949 and Mrs. Craig is interested in any old school photographs from that period.

17 IN CLAMS
"It's interesting to note that our graduating class 20 years ago numbered 17," said Mrs. Craig yesterday. "This year it numbered 150."

Dancing will be to old favorites like Cheri Cheri Bl. Sometimes and Yours, to revive memories of noon-hour dance sessions the students used to enjoy.

Plays by Uvic Students To Be Shown at Seminar

Two plays by University of Victoria students will be produced at the National Playwriting Seminar conference to be held in London, Ont., this summer.

Bob Bell's Pinch of Sawdust and A Blow For Freedom by Lawrence Russell won honorable mention in the competition.

sponsored by the National Seminar.

Both plays have been produced by student players.

Pinch of Sawdust is a comic fantasy and A Blow For Freedom involves a telephone booth bomb plot by the IRA.

Both were written in the creative writing course under Prof. George Cuomo.

Remember when Bonded Stock came in that plain old bottle?

Well it doesn't anymore. That fine old bottle has launched its last lap. We've designed a new container for Gooderham's Bonded Stock. Tall and refined with classic lines. (Our whisky's now in the best shape ever). And we age Bonded Stock longer now as well. To make every drop just a little more mellow. One thing though. Bonded Stock's smooth lightness we don't change. Our blenders know a good thing when they taste it. Judging from the number of people who buy Bonded Stock Whisky, so does the rest of the country.

June 14 Seashore Curios On Show

Collector of seashore curios, Mrs. E. E. Betts, 275 Milburn Drive, Colwood, is to hold an open house in aid of the B.C. Women's Institute June 14 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For many years Mrs. Betts has collected odd items on the east and west coasts of Vancouver Island — sea-shells, coral, driftwood and kelp—and has used them to deck out her home.

THOUSANDS OF MILES
She has travelled thousands of miles in her small car to Port Renfrew and Comox to find items that catch her eye. Unless an item is just right, she won't pick it up. Now, three rooms of her home are filled with more than 16 driftwood lamps, sea-shell ash trays, coral mosaics and ornaments.

OPEN HOUSE
The open house she will hold will help raise cash for the institute of which she is a member. There will be no admission fee but a collection plate will be there for those who want to contribute.

A young Victoria police officer collapsed and died Sunday afternoon during a softball game at William Head prison.

Const. Keith Knight, 2862 Austin, collapsed during a softball game between Westholme Hotel and the William Head Steelers at the minimum security prison. He was 28.

The game was played before a large number of spectators, including Mrs. Knight and Const. Reginald Knight, the dead man's brother.

After his attack, attempts were made to revive him but he did not respond to artificial respiration.

GAME CALLED
The game was called after his collapse, and all Independent Athletic Association games for the week have been cancelled.

Const. Knight was born in Edmonton and served for a time in the Royal Canadian Navy before coming to Victoria.

He joined the force in February, 1956 as a clerk in the detective division and transferred to the patrol ranks in June of the same year.

THREE CHILDREN
In addition to his widow and brother, Reginald, he is survived by three children in Victoria, his parents in Edmonton, a sister Mrs. Kathleen Farquharson and a brother Ronald, also of Edmonton.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at Hayward's Chapel of Chimes, with burial to follow in Hatley Memorial Gardens.

Private Citizen Follows Driver, Takes His Keys

An impaired driver who was followed by a private citizen who took the offender's keys until police arrived was fined $300 yesterday in RCMP court. Police testimony indicated Dennis W. Addison, of the Canadian Crest Motel, Colwood, was seen driving erratically Saturday night near St. Giles and the Trans-Canada Highway. The motorist who saw him followed him into a blind street and took Addison's keys from the ignition while police were called.

The attending officer gave Addison a standard reaction test upon his arrival, which police say he failed.

In addition to the fine, Magistrate William Ostler prohibited Addison from driving anywhere in Canada for a four-month period.

Another impaired driver, Albert E. Ward, 1080 Southgate, was fined $300 in court yesterday for an offence last month.

Ward was in collision with the rear of another vehicle, and when checked by police was found to be unsteady on his feet and smelling strongly of liquor.

April 1 Joke

Among Those Fooled Was The Colonist

Those Dutch newspapers love their April Fool's Day jokes. And lots of people in Rotterdam (and a couple in Victoria) were taken in by one, March 31, when the Rotterdamse Nieuwsblad carried a story which said that Beatle singer George Harrison was not an Englishman but a Dutchman who landed in England four years ago when he left the Dutch ship on which he was working. The story said he would appear in Rotterdam next day.

PASSED ON
This story was passed on to the Colonist by Leo Teygeman of Sooke and was duly reported. Now William Tepper of 910 Caladonia proves the whole thing a hoax.

He sent the Colonist clipping to the Rotterdam newspaper and got a gleeful letter back which explained the April 1 joke and expressed delight that a Canadian newspaper had carried the story.

DON'T EXPLAIN
Mr. Tepper said that Holland papers perpetrate such a joke every March 31 and don't bother to explain later.

It's quite likely, said Mr. Tepper, that the police erected barriers at the street where George Harrison—or Jan Hendrickson as the Rotterdam paper called him—was to appear and that thousands of people probably went there to get a look at the famous "native son."

Toronto Ticker-Tape Parade May Await Northern Dancer

TORONTO — A ticker-tape parade for a horse? It might sound a bit foolish to an outsider, but to millions of suddenly horse-conscious Canadians it's the most natural thing in the world. The horse happens to be Northern Dancer, and for the Dancer only the best will do.

Since E. P. Taylor's plucky little colt brought the Kentucky Derby and Preakness championships to Canada for the first time, the excitement generated by his try for the Belmont Stakes and the triple crown this Saturday has been steadily mounting.

People who never paid any attention to horse racing are forming little groups for heated discussions as to the Dancer's chances. And never suggest to a Torontonians that the Dancer will not win.

Especially not to city controller and acting mayor Allan Lamport.

"Northern Dancer has caused Toronto's name to resound around the world," he enthused. Then he played his ace.

On Wednesday, Lamport announced, the city board of control will be asked to authorize a special Northern Dancer Day, complete with civic reception and a ticker-tape parade down Bay Street.

"It will be the first such parade ever held for a horse," said Lamport. "But why not? This horse has become almost human in the minds of many Canadians."

No date was mentioned for the reception. Presumably Lamport plans to wait until the Dancer thanks his Canadian backers by winning the Belmont, and perhaps the Queens Plate June 20 in Toronto.

Meanwhile, the Dancer stepped up his training yesterday in New York.

Both Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, the horse most experts feel will be his chief opponent, were given 14-mile workouts at different tracks yesterday and both were clocked in 2:04 1/5.

On Sunday, trainer Horatio Luro worked the Dancer 1 1/2 miles, then had the colt gallop another easy half mile.

Asked why the two hard workouts in as many days, Luro replied simply.

WANTS FIT HORSE

"The race approaches. I must increase the tempo."

Bill Hartack will again ride the Dancer in the Belmont, as he did in the Derby and Preakness. And again it will be Willie Shoemaker on Hill Rise, hoping to accomplish over the 1 1/2 miles what he could not do in the two shorter races.

Fuel Investigation Called After Indianapolis Pileup

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — An investigation into the hazards of using high octane gasoline in auto racing was prompted by a U.S. Auto Club director yesterday as controversy raged over Saturday's tragedy-stalked Indianapolis 500.

Henry Banks, competition director, would say only that a meeting will be called to discuss the problem June 9. Other owners and drivers, who watched Eddie Sachs and Dave MacDonald speed to their death in flaming collisions were much more specific.

Many urged that use of gasoline be banned, and drivers forced to stick with fuel blends like methanol.

"Gasoline is highly inflammable and explodes," said Andy Granatelli, owner of the three-car Nova stable. "You can't light methanol with a match."

Two-time winner Roger Ward, the runner-up who drove one of the seven rear-engine Fords, admitted that his crew made changes "at my bedside" the night before the race so he could use a fuel blend rather than gasoline. The other six Fords used gasoline.

However, Ray McLachlan, who has been blending fuels at the speedway for nearly 20 years, was more cautious in his approach.

Race Fans Miss Out On Saanich Prince

VANCOUVER — Saanich Prince, a veteran plater, and Russ Combs, an apprentice just starting out in thoroughbred racing, shared top billing at Exhibition Park Monday.

Combs, watched by only 4,374 fans at the rain-drenched track, was greeted in the winners' circle three times and claimed a show finish as well while eight-year-old Saanich Prince fooled most of them in the third race to get $74.50, $26.80 and $9.10 across the board.

Racing resumes on Wednesday, Monday results:

Boxla Tie As Jokers Get Points

Victoria Jokers best Nanaimo 17-14 at Memorial Arena last night to average two early defeats in the Hub City and move into a first-place tie with the Nanaimo club in the Senior "B" Lacrosse League.

Nanaimo and Jokers each have four points. Last-place Poul Bay has yet to win a game.

Dave Wakelyn was the leader for Jokers as he scored four goals. Norm Parker bagged three and Bob Harris, Jim Cunningham, and Bob Anderson scored a pair each. Single tallies went to Al Parbet, Norm Harris, Brian Speven and Russ Ashworth.

Sooke Team Plays Kings

Sooke softball fans have something of a treat coming up Saturday.

Showboat Buckner's well-known Comedy Kings softball team will move in for a one-game stand against Sooke Forest Products.

The game is scheduled for the Sooke ball park at 1 p.m.

Calisthenics Are a Part of Sailing

Handling a 12-metre yacht such as the Sovereign (left) can be arduous and owner Anthony Boyden is making certain his crew will be in fine physical fettle when it takes to qualify for America's Cup challenge against U.S. representative in September. Sovereign will have to defeat Screeper, Britain's last unsuccessful challenger, and Kurruva V, a new boat. Boyden's crew is shown at Devilish House, Boyden's home in Dorset, as David Marques, former England rugby player, puts them through part of tough training grid.

Day of Rest Merited After Madcap Sunday

The National League got a day off yesterday. It was badly needed.

While the American League limited itself to four games, the Nationals rested up and looked back in wonder at a Sunday marathon in New York, where league-leading Chicago White Sox, 3-0, on Jack Kralick's six-hitter; Wally Bunker, Baltimore's 19-year-old world-beater, needed relief help but got his sixth straight victory as the Orioles downed Kansas City, 8-4; Minnesota's Dick Stigman held New York Yankees for a 3-1 victory and Boston beat the Angels, 4-3.

Now about that wild one in New York:

The Mets, who are outdrawing the Yankees about two to one at home, drew 57,037 for a doubleheader with the Giants that was to last 19 hours, 16 minutes. Giants won the first one, 5-3, and they started again.

SEVEN HOURS

Seven hours and 22 minutes later, the Giants had another victory, on a ground-rule double to right field by pinch-hitter Del Crandall, who was hitting a lousy .191. Jim Davenport, who had tripped with two out, scored. Cap Peterson, who had been walked intentionally, scored later.

It was marked by some of the wildest baseball you'd ever want to see.

For instance, the Mets pulled a triple play, engineered by the Mets and San Francisco Giants went 23 innings—longest major league game ever on a time basis—before the Giants won, 8-4.

Dispense with last night's game quickly; there's a tale to be told.

Cleveland Indians shut out shortstop Roy McMillan, to get out of trouble in the 14th inning. Giant manager Alvin Dark protested on a technicality, but withdrew it later.

Willie Mays, who went 1 for 10 at the plate, started the game in centre field, switched to shortstop in the 10th, and went back to centre in the 13th.

Numerous fist-fights broke out among the fans, but they weren't nearly as hungry as the umpires. Through some oversight, there was no food provided in umpires' quarters, and they worked the double-header hungry.

Mets, who trailed 6-1 at one point, peeked away for the tie, holding the Giants scoreless through 19 innings, from the third through the 22nd. Mets had two runners on and one out in the 19th, and ended it in Mets' fashion by hitting into a double play.

Billy, Not Willie Sweetest Swinger

Baseball's sweetest swinger today is Billy Williams, a 26-year-old outfielder who is, apparently, just reaching the greatness predicted for him when he was unveiled by Chicago Cubs as a regular in 1961.

With Willie Mays past his peak at 33 although still the most exciting player in the major leagues, Williams looms as his successor, and the best bet to become baseball's first 400-hitter since Ted Williams made it in 1941.

Williams tacked 18 points to his average in the past week with 12 hits in 24 trips to boost his batting average to .414. He has only two hits fewer than National League leader Roberto Clemente and is tied, at 13, with Frank Howard for second place in the home-run derby.

Meanwhile, Mays, once flirting with 500, has had only six hits in his last 27 trips and has dropped to 364 and been pummeled by Clemente and Milwaukee's Joe Torre. Mays still leads the major leagues in home runs, 18, and runs batted in, 43.

RIVAL THERAT

The American League, it seems, has come up with a challenger for Williams in Tony Oliva, rookie Minnesota outfielder. Oliva leads the major leagues in hits with 69 and a .383 is within easy spitting distance of 400.

Junior Rocks Drop Behind Playoff Pace

VANCOUVER — Victoria Junior Shamrocks had a fourth-quarter rally fail just short here Sunday as they dropped a 13-12 Inter-City Junior Lacrosse League decision to Vancouver Legion.

Shamrocks now have a record of two wins and three losses. They must win six games of 12 to qualify for the playoffs.

Shamrocks were down by five goals at one point in Sunday's game before they staged their rally.

John Allen led Shamrocks with three goals. Glen Vickers and John Hansen had two each, while singles went to Ron Kidduff, Nirmal Dillon, Ken Piercey, Don Monroe and Ranjit Dillon.

Gord Fredericksen scored five goals for Legion. Bill Robinson, Bob Salt and R. Hornby had two each.

Thumb, Canadiens Stopping Fergie

VANCOUVER (CP) — Jack Bowie Ferguson, first Vancouver hockey player to make the National Hockey League, is home for the summer and chafing at the bit to take a crack at another favorite sport — lacrosse.

Only two things keep him from taking up a lacrosse stick. Montreal Canadiens, who pay his salary, would rather he didn't play, and he has a mangled thumb that can't grasp a lacrosse stick too well.

ALMOST LOST IT

Ferguson's thumb is in a cast, where it will stay until about the middle of June. He almost lost the thumb in a scuffle with Boston Bruins defenseman Ed Westfall last December. It lasted only a few minutes, but the result was that Ferguson missed 11 games.

"I knocked him down," says Ferguson, "and was moving in to hit him again when someone got a skate up in the air and I punched that instead, right on the blade."

"The thumb was actually cut off. It was just hanging by the skin. A Boston doctor sewed it up and it was in a cast for nearly a month. The tendon didn't heal properly, so I had to have another operation after the season ended."

Although the injury hurt his shooting, he ended the season with 18 goals and 27 assists, coming fourth in scoring behind teammates Jean Beliveau, Bobby Rousseau and Henri Richard.

JOHN FERGUSON

Juvenile Baseball

During the last three summers, Ferguson was one of the main cogs for Nanaimo in the Inter-City Lacrosse League. Last season, he was runner-up for the league scoring title and winner of the Maitland trophy as most valuable player on the circuit.

SAFER PROGRAM

The Canadiens' management wants Ferguson to stay in shape for hockey next season, but has prescribed a "safer" program of calisthenics and road work instead.

Campbell and Bluebird Fail Again

Dejected Donald Campbell failed yesterday in his attempt to drive his famous Bluebird to a world land speed record on the salt flats of Lake Eyre, Australia, and hinted that he may have to give up.

"The decision depends on the decisions of my loyal friends and on how long they can stay," explained the disappointed British speed king, who had two runs of 350 and 346 miles per hour over a measured mile course. Record of 394.196 was set by the late John Cobb of Britain in 1947.

Campbell's times were the highest he has ever achieved in Bluebird, and it was believed that runs torn in the surface of the flats by recent rains prevented him from better times.

"It was heartbreaking all the way," Campbell concluded.

Loses Job

Frank "Pop" Ivy yesterday lost his job as general manager and coach of Houston Oilers of American Football League although his contract does not run out until February. He was replaced as coach by Sammy Baugh and as general manager by Carroll Martin. Ivy's assistant for two years.

AT THE 19th

With Harry Young

The manner in which 18-year-old Ricky Kent ran away with the city junior golf championship Sunday has marked him as one of the most promising amateur shotmakers in the province.

Officials at Gorge Vale feel that his 36-hole score of 146—level par—was the best such performance ever recorded by a junior on this course. And his win is just another addition to an impressive set of credentials.

Last year Kent was runner-up to Bill Wakeham in the city championship, and this year he would have been medalist in the Island Open but for a scoring mistake that cost him two strokes.

It would thus seem that Kent has more or less assured himself of a place on the B.C. junior interprovincial team, and if it were not an unwritten rule that juniors are not selected for the Willingdon Cup team he might be a candidate there as well.

Certainly, there hasn't been a more promising-looking golfer in the area since Bob Fleming and later Bill Wakeham shot into prominence.

Top 10 finishers in the city junior tournament get the chance to play in the annual inter-city matches with Vancouver later this summer.

Joining Kent on the team will be Gary Smith, Colwood; R. Bishop, M. Smith, A. Glover and Don Hillsborough of Uplands; Jay Wilson of Victoria; Ricky Bath, Gorge Vale, and F. Worthington and G. Barnes of Cedar Hill.

Bill Wakeham opens defence of his city amateur championship Sunday with 36 holes at Uplands Golf Club, and although Wakeham's putting has been giving him a little trouble in recent weeks, the champ should be tough to dislodge.

Still, the competition for the 54-hole event promises to be fierce. Entries close today and the draw will be made tonight, and there are some impressive names on the list.

One particularly good-looking challenger is Laurie Kerr, the Colwood ace who is now playing better than he has for some years. This tournament is Kerr's baby. He has won it six times in the last nine years, the last time two years ago.

Kent and Smith will lead the junior challenge, while Noel Pumfrey, runner-up in the Canadian junior last year and now out of junior ranks, is another youngster with possibilities.

It's the little extras that are making the new Gregarah Golf Course so popular.

Latest story from the scenic little course at the south end of Prospect Lake concerns the member who holed out at the ninth, lifted a rod out of his car and looked into a 2½-pound bass.

Glen Coffey and Bob Peers of Victoria retained the senior buttons last week by beating Moke Morgan and Clarence Mitchell of Gorge Vale on the 18th at Uplands.

Victoria Swim Club Beaten by Two Points

Vancouver Amateur Swim Club won the meet, but Victoria's Grant Treloar in the 13 and 14-year-old group, and Jim Gollmer in the 10-and-under swept their events by gaining four victories.

Treloar and Gollmer took the freestyle, breaststroke, backstroke and butterfly in their divisions.

Vancouver finished with 172 points, only two more than Victoria.

Lorry Crosby of Victoria won the girls' 11-and-12 backstroke and freestyle.

Victoria's Ian Kerr took the boys' open 100-yard freestyle and 50-yard butterfly.

Peter Clarke and his Cowichan club-mates defeated Oak Bay by 88 runs (154-71) Sunday, to move into a tie for first place with Rays in the Victoria and District Cricket Association standings.

Clarke, last year's leading batsman, scored 64 runs while Jim Riley added 32.

Jack Sparks scored 26 runs, not out, for Oak Bay.

Trophy Meet Won by Scott

Jack Scott of Colwood won the first competition for the John Merriman Memorial Trophy as he fired a 68-10—58 over the par-63 Cedar Hill Golf Course Sunday.

Scott finished one stroke ahead of Cedar Hill's Kurt Lampert (70-11—59) and Erkki Mullanen (73-14—59).

Dick Munn took low gross honors with 63.

Norm Boden, Bill Court, George Murphy, Noel Pumfrey, George Jones, Bill Hobbs, G. Calver, Sid Perch, D. Ward, D. Allan, M. Russell, Dave Mello, Leo Seigert, W. Hodson, G. Chaster, R. Carmichael, K. Foulds, and C. Hicks.

Bowler Testifies In Court Action

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Dorcas Tuck has gone to court in an attempt to gain a prize for bowling a perfect game.

Mrs. Tuck said Monday in an action before Chief Justice J. O. Wilson of the British Columbia Supreme Court that she bowled 12 strikes in a row in tempis last April 25.

She said the Brentwood Lanes offered $5,000 prize for perfect games in a letter that went to secretaries of various leagues.

After she bowled her 300 game she was a guest at a banquet at which she received an envelope containing $300. She returned this and now is seeking the $5,000.

Mrs. Tuck said the prize offer was never withdrawn. But the bowling company said it was withdrawn in 1962. A notice to this effect was posted at the bowling alley but, because a suitable mailing list was not available, mailed notices were not sent out.

Shirley Naysmith Takes Medal Honor

Mrs. Shirley Naysmith, champion in 1962, shot a four-over-par 81 at Gorge Vale Golf Club yesterday to take medalist honors in the qualifying round of the women's city championship.

Her score was two strokes better than that of defending champion Mrs. Margaret Todd, who is shooting for her 12th city title.

Match play begins today. Top 16 qualifiers compete for the championship, the others dropping into flights.

1st flight—Mrs. E. Blum vs. Mrs. E. Blum, 81-81; Mrs. J. Pail vs. Mrs. J. Pail, 82-82; Mrs. C. Holland vs. Mrs. E. C. D. Wilson, 83-83; Mrs. A. Wood vs. Mrs. C. Wood, 84-84; Mrs. V. cigarette filter breakthrough:

only belmont suspends large granules of activated charcoal in a fibre mesh to give you the best cigarette filter in Canada

BELMONT'S MULTI-STAGE FILTER SYSTEM OFFERS SMOKERS UNIQUE PURIFYING ACTION

Belmont is the only Canadian cigarette to bring you the full promise of activated charcoal granule filtration. That's because only the Belmont multi-stage filter system uses an effective quantity of activated charcoal granules... only Belmont uses large granules (not powder, not dust)...and only Belmont suspends these granules in a fibre mesh so all the smoke passes through and around the activated charcoal. All the smoke must then pass through Belmont's Final-Stage Filter of pure, white cellulose acetate. And Belmont gives you more than just the best filter cigarette in Canada. You'll also enjoy the rich, rewarding taste of vintage Virginia tobaccos and the generous, extra-length king-size. You owe it to yourself to smoke Belmont.

Americans Make Clean Swiftsure Sweep

American yachtsmen walked off with all six trophies in the 1964 Swiftsure race Sunday, but a Canadian yacht won two trophies in the Juan de Fuca race for smaller C class yachts. The Canadian winner was the 28-foot sloop Saraband, owned and skippered by H. Jones of the West Vancouver Yacht Club, which took the San Juan trophy and the Juan de Fuca trophy for finishing first and having the best corrected time.

The Swiftsure trophy for overall handicap winner and the Seattle Yacht Club trophy for finishing first in the BB class were won by G. O. Smith, of the Tacoma Yacht Club, in the 36-foot sloop Bandit.

The City of Victoria trophy for being the first boat to finish the race and the T. Eaton de Foca trophy for finishing first to finish in the A class were won by R. G. Page, of the Seattle Yacht Club, in the 46½-foot sloop Husay.

The B.C. Cement Company trophy for being the first boat to finish in the AA class was won by J. F. Eddy, of the Seattle Yacht Club, in the 52-foot yawl Dorade.

FIRST IN CLASS

The Royal Vancouver Yacht Club trophy for being first in the B class was won by R. A. Spencer, of the Tacoma Yacht Club, in the 30-foot sloop Allegro.

Hussy crossed the finish line seconds before 6 p.m. Sunday, about four minutes ahead of the 46-foot sloop Jandy, skippered by G. A. Prentice of the Seattle Yacht Club.

LED FLEET

Jandy led the fleet at the half-way mark, rounding the frigate HMCS Oshawa at Swiftsure Bank at 6:01 a.m. the same day. Jandy was followed around Oshawa by Bandit, Hussy and Tricia, in that order.

A heavy mist hung over the strait all day Sunday, and the Oshawa started broadcasting a beacon signal shortly after its arrival at Swiftsure Bank Saturday evening.

When the fog was at its worst, visibility was said to have been reduced to one-quarter mile.

A huge bulk carrier caused a few moments of anxiety for the Canadian Coast Guard, when it seemed to be heading down on two of the racing yachts on Sunday. But, at the last minute, it veered away from the race course.

PLACED FOURTH

First Victoria yacht to finish was the 36-foot sloop May D II, skippered by its owner, E. P. Ashe, of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, which came in sixth but placed fourth in corrected time finish, in the Juan de Fuca race.

About half of the 85 record entries dropped out of the race because of poor wind and fog conditions, spokesmen said.

Winner Bandit

Hussy won City of Victoria trophy.

Most Register For New Cards

OTTAWA (CP)—Sixty-two per cent of eligible Canadians have registered so far for social insurance number cards, the Commons was informed Monday. James Byrne, parliamentary secretary to Labor Minister MacEachen, replying to Gerald A. Regan (L.—Halifax), said 1,722,840 Canadians have registered. The number cards replace unemployment insurance numbers and will be used for the proposed Canada Pension Plan.

Announce New Healing Substance... Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids... and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and gently relieved... actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that the improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator).

New Fire Chief Stays

Saanich Council Sticks to Guns

By HARVEY SHEPHERD

Saanich council stuck to its guns last night and by a three-three tie refused to rescind the appointment of a Victoria firefighter as Saanich fire chief.

In the face of a council chamber filled with Saanich firefighters and their supporters and a petition signed by 5,000 people supporting the firefighters' position, Reeve Stanley Murphy said council members are elected to use their judgment in carrying out the business of the municipality.

Tie Vote

And the motion the firefighters were seeking — to rescind the appointment of Victoria firefighter Joseph Sutherland and reopen the matter of appointing a man to replace retiring Saanich fire chief Joseph Law — failed by a three-three tie vote.

Voting for the motion were Coun. Leslie Passmore, Coun. Harold Todd and Coun. Gregory Cook. Coun. Cook, who had previously voted for Mr. Sutherland's appointment, said he had become unsure that examinations involved in the appointment had been properly conducted.

Voting against the motion were Reeve Murphy, Coun. Hugh Curtis and Coun. Douglas Cross-by Coun. Joseph Casey is attending a convention in Regina. The matter of Mr. Sutherland's appointment was raised when council voted unanimously to hear the spokesman for a large delegation from the Saanich firefighters' union.

A brief from the union was read by lawyer John Gault, and later described by Reeve Murphy as a dignified brief worthy of the Saanich fire department.

The meeting was orderly.

Arbitration

There was an indication Saanich firefighters may seek to gain their end by applying to the B.C. labor relations board to have the matter arbitrated under the firefighters' union contract with the municipality.

Following the three-three vote, Reeve Murphy said it was open to the union to make such an attempt, and Mr. Gault told the reeve he could be assured such an attempt would be made.

Reeve Murphy described the "nub" of the firefighters'

Audience, mostly firemen listen intently brief the statement that "either council feels no one in the department is capable of handling the job of chief, and members of the department know this is not so, or council's action was governed by reasons which have not been revealed."

He said the public silence of the backers of the appointment was in order to "protect the efficiency of the fire department at all costs" by keeping confidential the confidential reports of a Vancouver industrial relations firm on the applicants for the post.

The brief said the appointment had hurt morale in the fire department. It said seniority and efficiency were laid down as bases for promotion in the firefighters' union contract and these bases would be good ones to follow in picking a chief, whether or not the clause was legally binding in the chief's case.

The firefighters' brief suggested that, in filling senior positions in the department, notice of vacancies be posted, applications be invited from the department, the fire chief be asked for recommendations, all qualified applicants be interviewed and any tests thought necessary be given.

Tisdalle Rocked On Heels

Saanich MLA John Tisdalle looked in on the fire chief squabble at Saanich council last night and later said what went on there "would just about rock you on your heels."

"I can understand now why Reeve Murphy once called the Soerds 'Big Brother'—he certainly knows how to handle things in that style," said the Soerds MLA.

Mother Given Trip But Bingo Is Off

Mrs. Mary Digns, 64, walked down the steps of an airplane at Victoria International Airport last night — into the arms of the adopted daughter she hadn't seen for 16 years, even though the event that brought her here had been cancelled.

Mrs. Duyns, of Pointe Claire, Que., was the "mystery guest" chosen from 1,200 names in the Kinsmen Giant Bingo planned for tonight.

TICKET SALES LAGGED

Tickets for the bingo did not reach the anticipated sales and the session at Memorial Arena was hastily cancelled yesterday.

A Kinsmen spokesman said last night the 37th giant bingo, which offered $12,500 in game prizes and a possible additional $2,000 in consolation prizes, was cancelled because only 1,200 tickets instead of the usual 3,500 had been sold in advance.

PRICE BOOST?

He said a possible factor in the ticket drop was the fact that ticket prices had been boosted this time from the usual $2 to $3.99 for the evening's play of 14 games.

But, it was still a lucky break for Mrs. Betty Patterson, of Grant Road, Sooke.

BIG SURPRISE

"I never expected mother to be chosen in the draw," she said.

Mrs. Duyns was equally surprised, for when she left Dorval Airport yesterday afternoon, she had no idea of her destination.

Also there to meet Mrs. Duyns were David Patterson, her son-in-law, and the five Patterson children: Donald, 15; Susan, 13; John, 10; Jimmy, eight and David, four.

Escorting them were Kinsmen officials David Peddie and Marcel Barabou and the man who arranged the trip, W. L. Ferguson, manager of Totem Travel Service Limited.

WONDERFUL

"I never thought that I would see you again," said Mrs. Duyns. "This is wonderful, and I'll never forget it as long as I live."

There was another big surprise in store for Mrs. Duyns and the Patterson family when they arrived home last night. Friend of the family Mrs. Irene Woolley of Sooke Road had sneaked into the house with a big two-tier chocolate cake to celebrate the arrival of the special guest.

McPherson Playhouse

There'll Be Lots Of Live Talent

By IAN STREET

When the new McPherson Playhouse opens early in 1965 local audiences will be offered a great variety of live entertainment, the newly-appointed manager of the civic theatre said here yesterday.

Bob Ellison said, in an interview, that Victoria, like many Canadian centres which have been starved of live entertainment in recent years, is "ripe" for such an enterprise.

FIRST DAY

On his first day as a civic employee, Mr. Ellison toured the site where the old Pantages Theatre is being renovated and a new addition built as part of the $2,000,000 Centennial Square development.

He was accompanied by Alan Hodgson, who designed the playhouse, and project architect Roderick Clark.

"A most ideal theatre" of its size and type is the way Mr. Ellison described the old Pantages. With the addition of new lobby space, and other facilities for public, staff, and players, he said, "it will become almost perfect."

INTIMACY, GLAMOUR

The manager said the new playhouse when completed will have both intimacy and glamour.

Mr. Ellison, at age 30 is a veteran of 10 years in the theatre, both as an actor and in the past five years on the business side. Much of his theatrical experience was gained in his native Winnipeg.

RECENT JOB

His most recent job, which he left to come here, was business and sales promotion manager for the Crest Theatre in Toronto.

Between now and the opening of the playhouse early next year, Mr. Ellison will devote much of his time to helping Victorians "identify" with the venture that is taking shape.

"This is to be their theatre," the manager said. "In it we will put on the things the people want."

Mr. Ellison said the playhouse management will be "very receptive" to professional and amateur groups that are of a sufficiently high calibre.

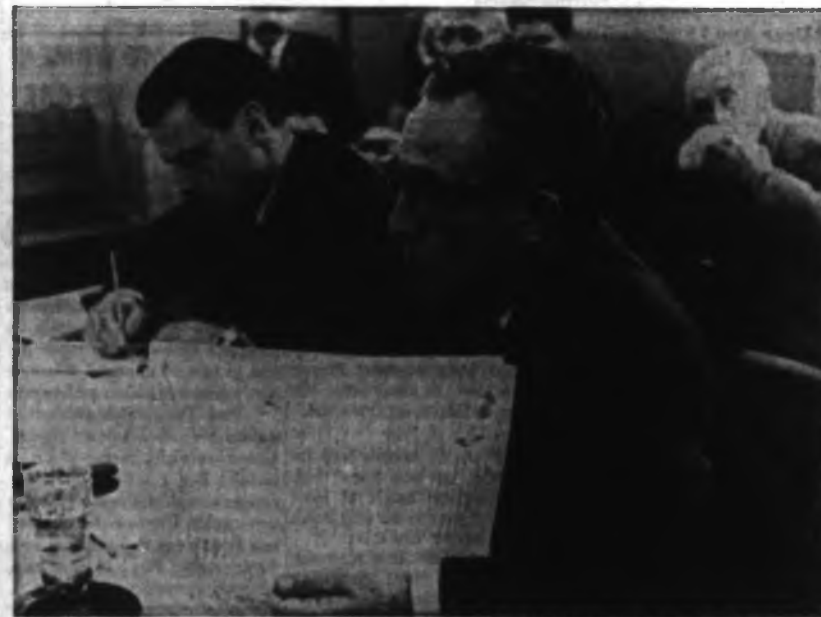

In addition to road shows from both Canada and the U.S., Mr. Ellison hopes to bring to Victoria audiences repertory groups from Vancouver and Seattle, touring lecturers, concerts and other forms of entertainment.

Children Today 'Godless Bunch'

Mrs. H. D. Young thinks children today "are a Godless bunch" but she failed to convince Belmont High School Association last night that religious teaching in schools should be augmented.

After a plea to endorse education minister Peterson's stand for more, not less, religion in schools, the meeting, with 20 members present, voted seven for the motion, eight against and five abstained.

"That's the teachers," said Mrs. Young quietly.

Opposing the idea of augmenting the amount of religious instruction was teacher Robert Piegott who said he didn't think children were Godless or that teachers were opposed to religious instruction.

Teacher Donald Kerley said that teaching religion by reading scriptures without comment is like teaching highway safety by reading sections of the Motor Vehicle Act without comment.

City Spreads Word

Brochure to 'Tell All' About Budget Bylaw

A brochure containing specific information on the $3,367,000 capital budget bylaw to be voted on June 15 is being prepared at city hall.

Some 18,000 of the information pieces will be mailed to city ratepayers early next week, officials said.

The information campaign will go into high gear about the same time.

A list of bookings for aldermen who will speak to service clubs and other community groups on the five-year proposal for capital spending is growing but there are still speakers available on request.

NO TOWN MEETING

Tentative plans for a town meeting type of gathering at which the capital budget would be debated by members of city council have been abandoned.

A city hall spokesman said the absence of controversy regarding the budget influenced this decision.

Every possible means of getting information to the ratepayers, however, will be used including paid advertising.

Any group or individual who has a question on the program proposed by city council is invited to telephone the office of the city manager, EV 5-5711.

Net increase in taxation over five years if the $3,367,000 program is instituted will amount to 28 mills or less than one-fifth of a mill per year.

Sex Course Still Studied

Information gleaned from a recent sex education workshop is still being sifted as school board officials seek a suitable sex education program for Greater Victoria district schools.

Yesterday the board's committee on sex education, composed of board officials, clergy and counsellors, met to discuss the findings of the workshop but no definite program has yet been drawn up.

City Sets Building Record Still Lags Behind Saanich

Nearly $2,000,000 worth of building permits were issued in Greater Victoria last month, setting a new January-May record for the city, which still lags behind fast growing Saanich.

Figures available yesterday showed the city issued permits for $1,006,136 worth of construction in May, compared with $704,965 in Saanich, $112,525 in Oak Bay and $39,940 in Esquimalt.

LAGS 287,454

The city's five-month total jumped to a record $5,494,266 but still lags more than one-quarter of a million dollars behind Saanich's $5,681,820 five-month total.

New construction in the city includes a 20-suite, $120,000 apartment building at 40 Boyd Street; a 17-suite, $90,000 apartment at 125 Kingston.

Also, a $57,000 school at 750 Front Street, four homes worth

$31,500 and a $23,000 service station at 285 Superior.

This growth, along with numerous alterations and additions to existing buildings, accounted for the 471 permits in May.

It took 2,598 individual permits to establish the new January-May record.

In 1963, Victoria issued 563 building permits worth $1,027,158 in May and 2,608 permits valued at $5,320,289 from January through May.

SAANICH FIGURES

Saanich officials issued 91 permits worth $704,965 in May, 43 of which were for dwellings valued at $606,600—bringing the five-month total to 485 permits worth $5,681,820, including 208 for dwellings valued at $3,002,250.

In 1963, Saanich gave out 115 permits worth $947,004 in May, including 53 for dwellings valued at $724,000. The five-month total was 521 permits worth $6,164,047, including 220 for dwellings worth $3,069,160.

Oak Bay issued 35 permits worth $112,525 in May, of which four were for dwellings valued at $98,700. The 1964 total to date is 176 permits worth $1,030,992, including 31 for dwellings valued at $638,572.

Last year, Oak Bay issued 22 permits worth $85,777 in May, including three for homes valued at $70,000, bringing the five-month total to 190 permits worth $1,018,744.

ESQUIMALT

Esquimalt issued 14 permits worth $39,940 in May, including one for a dwelling worth $15,500, and to date, 76 permits worth $1,023,967.

Esquimalt's 1963 figures showed 15 permits worth $378,600 in May. The five-month figure was 74 permits worth $1,311,323.

Parties Honor Linda Walker

Miss Linda Walker, whose marriage to Mr. Gerald Fagan takes place on June 6, was honored recently at a number of showers and parties.

of Franklin, Tenn. The wedding will take place June 13 at 2 p.m. at Oak Bay United Church with Rev. Alexander Calder officiating. (Miss MacKay's photo by Muir, Mr. Cameron's by Spaulding-Boy Studio, Colorado Springs)

Most Beautiful Brides Simply Look Natural

By GILLIAN WADSWORTH

TNS: Wedding bells, organ music, a starry-eyed girl walking down the church aisle with that special look of radiance—this is a picture of a June bride?

It's not difficult for a bride to look lovely on Her Day. Everything is to her advantage—she has a glow of inner beauty, swirling clouds of soft veiling about her face, and a sweeping white gown.

But what will give her extra beauty? Experts in hair-styling, makeup, bridal gowns and a bridal consultant agree that she should be natural.

Bridal styles this year are simple and elegant, says designer Helmar of London. "Gowns are mostly long and worn with mantilla head-dresses," she says. Traditional head-dresses are still popular, and many brides are choosing pill-box styles.

Gerald Campbell, who photographs many brides, likes simple traditional head-dresses too. "I like tiaras, especially with long flowing veils," he says, "but they seem a little out of place with short veils."

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from "Not Ashamed" has created the impression that epileptics are mentally retarded. I'm sure you know better, Ann Landers, but I'm afraid many of your readers don't.

Eighty per cent of the epileptics in this country can attend school, hold jobs, marry and raise children—if they are accepted as normal human beings and not humiliated or discriminated against by an ignorant and ill-informed society.

I am an epileptic and here is my history: I won top honors in high school, spent two years in the Canadian air force during the war, married, had children and now hold a government office.

I have never allowed epilepsy to prevent me from doing anything I wanted to do. No one except my physician and my intimate family knows I'm an epileptic. I adhere to doctor's orders, get plenty of rest and proper nourishment. I refuse to feel sorry for myself. I'm actually a great deal better off than most people I know. Please print my letter and sign me—ALSO NOT ASHAMED.

Dear Also: Here is your letter, and now a word from me: It's too bad you have kept your epilepsy such a deep, dark secret. You could help to enlighten people and to make them less fearful of epilepsy if they knew an epileptic could function as well as you do.

Dear Ann Landers: Our son is in the service. He writes two, three, four letters every month. My husband and I eagerly look forward to the mail.

Tim addresses his letters to both his father and me, although his father seldom writes to him. (I write for both of us.)

When a letter from Tim arrives my husband hands me the rest of the mail, takes the letter from Tim and opens it. When I ask if we can read Tim's letter together, or if he will please read Tim's letter to me, he says, "No, I'd rather read it alone." Then he sits down and reads Tim's letter and I have to wait until he finishes and hands it to me.

I try not to show it, Ann, but I just boil inside when he does this. Am I wrong to feel that my husband is inconsiderate? Please tell me how to deal with the problem. —HIGH BLOOD RESURE.

Dear High: Of course he's inconsiderate, but you know that. Every marriage needs at least one mature person so why don't you be the one? Try this:

The next time the mailman brings a letter from Tim walk straight to the kitchen and start to bake a batch of cookies. Ask your husband to please bring Tim's letter to you when he has finished with it. Turn on the kitchen radio, hum, sing, beat away at the cookie batter—keep busy until the letter comes in. You'll enjoy it more when your blood pressure is normal.

Jacque Reaches Low Ebb

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Six months after a crime that shook the world, friends of Mrs. John F. Kennedy report that "she has her high and low points, lately mostly low."

The beautiful Jacqueline Kennedy lives quietly in a stately Georgetown home that, probably to her great chagrin, has become a major sight-seeing attraction for the charter bus tourist crowd.

She is seen occasionally at some of the better restaurants in town. Now and then, she takes daughter Caroline to such public events as the New York World's Fair or the Washington appearance of the Lippizaner Horses of Vienna.

She has changed in many ways.

Her hairdos were the subject of news stories, gossip and sometimes gasps when she was the first lady. Now she wears it in a long, casual style that is lovely but not high fashion.

She was a woman who, when dealing with the countless problems that attend being the wife of the president, had a flair for organization and for doing the right things at the right time with her own dynamic energy. Now, she can shrug her shoulders in the middle of what she is doing as if to say: What's the use?

Barbecue At Castle Tonight

Captain W. P. Hayes, RCN, Commandant, and the senior staff of the Canadian Services College, Royal Roads, will attend a dine-the-wives at the College at 7:30 this evening.

The function will take the form of a steak barbecue on the terrace of the Castle.

Presentations will be made to retiring staff members Arthur C. Privett, Registrar of the College since January, 1949, and to Father Hugh McGettigan, Catholic Chaplain at the College, who is retiring from the Navy after 14 years service.

The opportunity will also be taken to bid adieu to staff members who are leaving the College for other posts, namely, Protestant Chaplain Joseph G. Titus and Mr. Maurice Lancaster, lecturer in mathematics.

California Honeymoon For Mr. and Mrs. Dirom

CHEMANUS—St. Michael and All Angels Church was the setting for the recent wedding of Nora Eileen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sherlock, and John Gordon Dirom, son of Mrs. Herman George and the late John Joseph Dirom of Duncan.

Rev. J. G. Matthews officiated. Church pews were marked with ribbon bows and lily-of-the-valley.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a classic floor-length gown of antique mauve de sole, in semi-sheath and cummerbund enhanced with lace inserts. Her chapel length veil was held in place with a rose fashioned of the material of her gown, and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds and lily-of-the-valley.

Mrs. John Somogyvari, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Cecelia Williams was bridesmaid.

Flower girls were Cindy Sherlock, sister of the bride and her niece, Julie Somogyvari.

Best man was Neil Dirom of Port Alberni and ushers were Ian Dirom of Vancouver and Loren Sherlock.

A reception followed at the clubhouse of Mount Brenton Golf Club.

A hand-crocheted lace cloth covered the bride's table which was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with tiny yellow rosebuds and lily-of-the-valley, and embedded in yellow tulle. Tall white tapers in silver holders flanked the cake and bowls of yellow tulips and white broom completed the decor. Toast to the bride was given by George Beaubler.

For travelling to California, the bride donned a pale yellow

June is Dairy Month in Canada...

Yet every month is Dairy Month, for milk and the foods made from milk are provided at top flavor and quality the year round. We Canadians count on dairy foods not just for the good nutrition they supply—but also because they taste so good, and play such a part in helping us plan interesting, good-to-eat meals.

Trout Treat

Next time friend husband proudly presents you with his prize trout, give it this tender treatment. As you broil it, brush it with melted butter, using the proportions of a tablespoon of chopped fresh mint (or a half teaspoon of the dried variety) to a quarter cup of melted butter... brushing it over the brook beauty as it broils. Might try parsley butter with salmon, chive butter with whitefish, and use these quick butter sauces to dress up canned and frozen fish too!

Dreamy Dessert

Here's a dream of a fresh strawberry dessert. Just combine a pint of dairy sour cream with a pint of luscious red strawberries washed, hulled and cut in half. Flavor the cream first with a spoonful of sugar, white or brown, and vanilla or a hint of almond if you like. Gently fold in half a cup of coconut and the same amount of miniature marshmallows (or cut-up big ones... they cut easily with wet scissors). Add the strawberries... cover and chill the mixture deeply till serving time... and you'll find this dessert fine enough for the biggest VIP in the country. Keep the idea in mind for future summer desserts with other fresh fruits too!

Holiday Hints

We'd like to remind you that when fresh milk and cream aren't available at your camp or cottage spot, evaporated milk and milk powder will come to your rescue. Both of these concentrated forms of milk convert easily to liquid forms for cooking, drinking, baking and using in tea and coffee. In addition, they whip up readily into marvelous dessert toppings, so good with fresh fruits and camp-style desserts!

PERSONAL MENTION

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pearkes will attend the dinner at the Empress Hotel this evening to celebrate the centennial of St. Louis College. P. L. G. Fisher will be the aide-de-camp in attendance.

On Wednesday His Honor and Mrs. Pearkes, accompanied by Cmdr. G. Dixon will cross to Vancouver. They will leave the following day for Salmon Arm, which will be the beginning of an extended tour through the East Kootenays. While in Salmon Arm the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pearkes will visit hospitals and schools on Friday and later that evening attend a civic dinner.

Christened Sunday

Gina Marie were the names given to the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Grant at a christening ceremony conducted by Rev. Alexander Calder on Sunday at Oak Bay United Church. Mr. Robert Campbell and Miss Penny Jacobson are godparents and Dr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gaiso are the grandparents. Following the service a buffet luncheon was held at the Mayfair Drive home of Dr. and Mrs. Grant.

Northern Wedding

Mrs. Alice Belobaba, 1448 Grant Street, announces the engagement of her daughter, Elizabeth Ann, to Mr. Joseph William Eades, Tralee, Ireland. The wedding will take place in Cambridge Bay, N.W.T. on June 17.

Something new has been added that broadens the fashion view of weightless, uncrushable Arnel jersey. Now it has its own lining bonded to the fabric for more body and a richer, heavier look. Among the first fashions designed in the new fabric, in this elegant traveller by Vienna Styles photographed in Barbados.

Amethyst Brooch 'Something Old'

An amethyst brooch that had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother, was "something old" worn by Jennifer Katherine Costain Saturday afternoon when she became the bride of Mr. Ralph Norman Plumridge.

Given in marriage by her father, she wore a floor-length gown of French brocade with matching jacket that featured lily point sleeves and high neckline. The gown was designed and made by the bride. An elbow-length tulle veil mistled from a crown of pearls and lily of the valley. White lilac and yellow roses were in her bouquet.

Rev. T. H. McAllister officiated at the ceremony in Oak Bay United Church that united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Costain, 2807 Dunlevy Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Plumridge, of Vancouver.

White stocks and yellow shasta daisies were used as decoration in the church.

When you buy more life insurance stop and think first.

Let's say you've decided to invest an extra $200 a year in life insurance. What's the next step?

Careful now. Don't just order "another $10,000." That's like buying a house without seeing it first. A house has to fit your family, your family activities, your future plans.

So does your insurance programme. Your problem is to fit that extra $200 worth into your overall plan for financial security and growth. Should you spend it on more family protection today? Or on providing cash for a child's education fifteen years from now? Or on a retirement fund for yourself? Or on a combination of these?

You can see how, without help, planning such a programme can be complicated. But there is help. Your Manufacturers Life underwriter has an ingenious device called a Security Graph, which systematically pictures your overall financial position and objectives, and then indicates where that $200 will do the best job.

There's no charge for a Security Graph insurance review. So call your Man from Manufacturers soon.

Everyone's Irish in Ottawa

OTTAWA — Canadian leaders fairly fell over themselves claiming Irish antecedents Monday in welcoming President Eamon de Valera, of Ireland, to a three-day visit.

Governor-General Vautier, who claimed Irish background on his mother's side, Mme. Vautier and Prime Minister Pearson, who claimed Irish descent on both sides, greeted Mr. de Valera in the foyer of Government House.

Mr. de Valera, described as one of the great men of history, was introduced in the House of Commons and greeted by leaders of all parties. He threw back his head in laughter when Prime Minister Pearson said that Ireland had given the world poets, presidents and policemen.

NEW YORK — Negro integration leader, Dr. Martin Luther King, plans to call a country-wide conference on selective buying in the fall, with what he termed job discrimination in the automotive industry probably the first target.

HELSINKI — Yugoslav President Tito has arrived here to begin a six-day visit to Finland.

Soarers Seeking Members

Victoria Soaring Club is currently conducting a drive to try and make its membership soar.

With only six members at present, the club wants to expand its activities and add to its facilities.

Conviction Quashed

Griff Layne, 1312 Carnarvon Street, Victoria, had an impaired driving conviction which carried a $250 fine and a four-month licence suspension quashed in the appeal court yesterday.

The offence, which was after an accident January 10, was tried March 3 in Victoria City Police Court before Magistrate William Ostler.

CHICAGO — Earl Klenow, brother of the former president, said he has been fired from his post as public relations director for a newspaper chain because of his decision to run for state office.

LA PAZ — President Victor Paz Estenssoro of Bolivia was re-elected unopposed to a four-year term.

ROSEMARY, Alta. — Noel Edward Graps was drowned when the tractor he was driving flipped over and pinned him in a creek.

MONTREAL — The United States government has named one of its most experienced consular officials, to head the new American consulate-general in Quebec City. The appointment of Jerome T. Gaspard, seemed a further step in U.S. recognition of Quebec's new importance in Canada.

ROME — American actor William Terry Spensard, 33, went on trial here accused of raising marijuana plants in pots on the terrace of his Rome apartment.

fatal attack of pleurisy. The 51-year-old actress-singer dropped into a deep coma last Thursday with right lower lobe pleurisy, or pneumonia.

MOSCOW — Harold Wilson, British Opposition Labor party leader, Monday reviewed a wide range of foreign policy problems with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

PEKING — Thousands lined Peking's streets to give a traditional noisy and colorful welcome to President Abdulla Al Salal of the Yemen. Chinese Head-of-State Lin Biao-Chi and Premier Chen En-Lai and other leaders greeted the Yemeni leader.

SONDRIO, Italy — Three of Italy's leading mountain climbers were killed Sunday. Reaching Valtellina fell 150 feet to his death in the Aosta valley and an avalanche killed Bruno Ferrario and Arnaldo Tassoni.

ILFRACOMBE, England — Prime Minister Douglas-Home says Communists know that nuclear war is out of the question because they too would be destroyed, but they are "trying under cover of treaties and arrangements to subvert other parts of the world."

Road Toll Of 431 U.S. Record

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States counted a traffic accident death toll of 431 during the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

The fatality count during the time between 6 p.m. Thursday and midnight Sunday night set a record: It was the most deadly such three-day Memorial Day thus far, the toll surpassing the record 371 of the comparable 1958 holiday.

Oak Bay Changes

Higher Water Bills Out

The first set of Oak Bay water bills since a recent increase in water rates now is being sent out.

Under the new water rates the minimum charge, which entitles the user to up to 1,200 cubic feet of water, remains unchanged at $3.75 every two months.

UP FOUR CENTS

Each unit of 100 cubic feet above the 1,200 minimum costs the user 17 cents, up from 13 cents, until he has used 40,000 cubic feet.

Each 100 cubic feet used in excess of 40,000 costs the user 15 cents, up from 11 cents.

A 10 per cent penalty for late payment of water bills has been abolished. Instead, the municipality will undertake a stricter system of cutting off water when bills are unpaid.

The fee for turning on the water supply again has been raised to $2.50 from 20 cents.

A municipal official said a water user whose consumption is small but includes some watering will pay about $4.77 every two months under the new rate schedule, up from $4.53.

A customer who uses 4,000 cubic feet — a fairly large amount — in the two-month period will pay $8.51, up from $7.39.

The municipal official said Oak Bay water rates remain lower than those of nearby municipalities.

It delivers
60 seconds.

In the next day or so, you may learn something new about the taste of rye whisky. The message takes one minute. And no more than one taste of a whisky called Time. A gentle whisky. The taste is light, warm, smooth.

You will find you have never known a whisky with a taste like this. You will find yourself comparing it with the whisky you usually buy. And you may find yourself changing your mind about whiskies. The whisky in the hourglass bottle does that. The message comes through. Not loud. But clear. 60 seconds. Time enough.

Fiedler Goes Long Hair

'They're Like Animals'

Screaming Beatle Fans Get Fathers' Dander Up

LONDON (AP) — After a month's vacation, the Beatles gave their first return stage show Sunday night.

In the midst of the shouting, fainting and screaming, two fathers of teen-age children made almost as much noise as the pop singers.

The Beatles—John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Har-ison and Ringo Starr—were halfway through Twist and Shout when Benjamin Smith stood up in the audience and began shouting.

Smith didn't attract much attention until he talked up the aunts and encountered the Beatles' manager, Brian Epstein.

"They're like animals and savages," shouted Smith, referring to the audience, "and nobody's trying to control them. It's atrocious and unbelievable."

"We're leaving," he yelled. They left with him.

He was followed by Philip Spanjer, his wife and three-year-old son Michael.

"I didn't come to hear kids screaming," said Spanjer. "This is a waste of money and a disgusting exhibition."

'Stones' Roll Into U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five hundred screaming girl teenagers greeted The Rolling Stones, another British rock and roll group, as they arrived Monday on a jetliner from London.

The quiet, distinguished by their near shoulder-length hair, are making a three-week trans-continental concert tour of the U.S.

The Rolling Stones made the Beatles look as if they were fresh from the barbers.

Brian Jones, who sings and plays the harmonica and guitar, said they cut their own hair, and you could believe it.

"We take two mirrors and a pair of scissors and we just cut away," Jones said.

"MORE EARTH!" Jones explained the difference between the Stones' music and that of the Beatles:

Cancelled Joey Feels Emmy Due

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "They ought to give me an Emmy," says Joey Bishop with a rueful smile, "for the most-cancelled show in television."

Joey can afford a smile, having braved his third cancellation in three years. He'll be back for a fourth season following network dealing as complicated as a Perry Mason script.

NBC still wanted Joey—but as master of ceremonies of an hour variety show. Joey was willing, but he balked at signing for only 18 shows.

Joey held firm, so did NBC. On a Friday at 3 p.m., NBC made its final decision: 18 weeks of the variety hour or nothing. Joey took nothing. At 5:30 p.m. CBS called and wanted the half-hour comedy home at 6 p.m.: yes.

Fierce Pygmy Rebels Attack

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—Fierce pygmy rebels who fight with spears, arrows and machetes were reported marching Monday toward the eastern Congo city of Bakavu after routing five Congo army companies. A report that the United Nations planned to withdraw its civilian personnel from Bakavu set white Europeans to the verge of panic.

UN sources here said rebel Bafulero warriors—five-foot tribesmen led by a pro-Communist extremist—were spotted from the air moving along the road to Bakavu, a city of 80,000 population, including about 500 European whites, in Kivu province.

The UN sources said 180 Nigerian troops of the UN Congo force had been placed on alert for possible airlift to Bakavu from Leopoldville.

FLQ 'Punks' Ask Special Treatment

MONTREAL (UPI)—Convicted and suspected Quebec terrorists submitted an ultimatum Monday to provincial authorities demanding special treatment as "political prisoners" under a threat of staging a hunger strike in two weeks.

Copies of a statement signed by "the condemned members of the FLQ-AIQ," and subtitled "Liberty or Death," also were received by news media in the mails yesterday.

The statement was accompanied by a covering letter from "Paul Paris," a separatist newspaper, vouching for its authenticity.

SAME PLACE

The separatists demanded that all convicted and suspects should be "re-united in the same place to Quebec (not in St. Vincent de Paul)," the federal penitentiary near Montreal; freedom from compulsory manual work; facilities for private study and the lifting of censorship on reading material.

Impaired Drivers Face Jail—No Fine

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Magistrate D. M. MacDonald warned Monday that he would hand out jail terms of at least 14 days to anyone convicted of impaired driving, even if it is a first offence.

The magistrate said there would be no option of a fine for the first offence.

"Such a course of action will no doubt result in hardship for some, but it will be a hardship brought upon themselves as a result of their utter disregard for the lives and safety of others," he said.

Castro Sets Stage

GERM CHARGE NEXT MOVE?

HAVANA (Reuters)—Premier Fidel Castro said Monday night quantities of an unidentified substance had been dropped on Cuban soil from the air and that he was studying whether the United States had launched germ warfare against Cuba.

First Warnings

Floods Cut Highway

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—The first flood warnings of the season were heard in the north-central British Columbia Monday after a river and a creek burst their banks.

Pine River swept away a section of the Hart Highway, 164 miles north of here, cutting the artery which links central B.C. to northern Alberta.

Findlay Creek, 150 miles to the west, washed out the approaches to three bridges along a secondary highway leading north toward Topley Landing from Topley.

Highway officials said it would take at least a day to cut a detour around the damaged Hart Highway section.

Ferry Swept Down Peace

HUDSON HOPE, B.C. (CP)—A ferry carrying 12 passengers and five cars was swept down the swift-flowing, swollen Peace River Monday.

Police said a cable, used to guide the ferry across the river, snapped. The swift current pulled both the ferry and the tug that towed it downstream. There was no steering device on the ferry.

The tug pulled close to the ferry to remove passengers before cutting it loose. No one was reported injured.

Shastri Leads India

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Lal Bahadur Shastri was chosen as India's next prime minister this morning after a leading runner-up contender announced his support for the 59-year-old minister without portfolio.

Former finance minister Morarji Desai, one of Shastri's closest rivals for the succession to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru who died Wednesday, said last night the consensus of the ruling Congress party's members of Parliament was that "Shastri should be elected parliamentary leader and thus become prime minister."

Desai said he had been informed of the party's view on the subject by party president K. Kamaraj.

States Pick Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP)—California and New York, the two most populous states, today chose their delegates to next month's Republican convention in San Francisco where the party's candidate to contest the November U.S. presidential election will be chosen.

Butcher-Knife Thug Robs Man of $3,785

By BOB FETHICK

A knife-wielding thug took cash and jewelry valued at $3,785 from a city trucker at noon yesterday while he was putting some money in a safe at his home at 750 Market Street.

Ball Kudra told police he had cashed two insurance cheques at the Royal Bank of Canada, at Hillside and Quadra. One of the cheques was for $1,985, the other was for $100.

He pocketed the money, then went to the B.C. Forest mill and returned home. About an hour's time had passed.

He told police he entered his house and was just closing the door of a safe in the back room, having placed $985 inside. He kept $1,000 in his wallet.

He was about to close the safe when a man who was carrying a butcher-knife appeared behind him and told him to leave the safe open.

The man held Mr. Kudra at knife point, while he rifled the safe of the $985 and $300 or $400 additional cash and a gold bracelet with five diamonds in a Pakistani design valued at $1,300.

Mr. Kudra described the man as "needing a shave."

He took Mr. Kudra's wallet with the $1,100 and told him to get into the bathroom.

The thug warned Mr. Kudra

not to yell and said there was someone waiting outside.

During the time he held the robbery victim at knife point, the thug told Mr. Kudra he had seen him draw a large amount of money from the bank, Mr. Kudra told police.

Bank employees questioned said they were unable to recall anyone answering the thug's description in the bank.

W. E. Baker, of 753 Market, told police he had seen a man answering the thug's description at about 12:05 p.m. walking on Market Street toward Victoria.

The man was wearing a greenish windbreaker and wearing grey gloves, he said.

Vigilantes

Spread of Attacks Feared in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—New York residents have expressed concern that a weekend series of late-night Negro attacks on whites could spread throughout the city.

One vigilante group has been set up to combat the recent series of Negro assaults on whites and another is in the planning stage.

NOT ORGANIZED

In the last 48 hours, bands of Negro marauders terrorized passengers on four separate subway trains and a Staten Island ferry boat.

The city commission on human rights said Monday the incidents are "not organized, are not part of a plot." The commission said they are spontaneous reactions to discontent by the Negro people over poverty, unemployment, housing and schooling.

State assemblywoman Alicea B. Ryan (Dem. Bronx) urged a

Typhoid Wave Surges Higher

ABERDEEN (AP)—Health officials reported 84 new cases of typhoid in this Scottish city

Monday night. This was the largest 24-hour rise in cases since a typhoid epidemic began 12 days ago and it raised fears that a new wave in the outbreak had begun.

The new surge of cases brought to 224 the number of confirmed victims in hospitals. Another 17 persons were suspected of having typhoid.

ONLY 10 CASES

Early Monday, officials had expressed hope that the epidemic had eased. They based their optimism on the fact that only 10 cases were reported Sunday, the lowest in any 24-hour period since the epidemic began.

There were reports of scattered cases elsewhere in Scotland.

SEVEN PERSONS

A 14-year-old boy was stricken in Glasgow and seven persons were suspected cases in Elgin, 60 miles north of Aberdeen.

They later traded anthems, along with a few uncomplimentary remarks.

"Why don't you go back to Quebec?" shouted a Red Ensign bearer.

Sheriff Out In Cold

NDP leader Robert Strachan had umbrella for himself and picketer at left yesterday, but made Nanaimo Sheriff Frank Hodgson stand in rain and isolated he read off four pages of injunction which stopped picketing at MacMillan, Bleddel and Powell River Harbours plant near Nanaimo. Pickets came from strikebound Alberni plant. See story, Page 11. — (Agnes Fleet)

Calypso Singer Held 87 Days New Row Looms

TORONTO (UPI)—The federal immigration department faced further criticism yesterday when disclosure that a Trinidad-born Negro had been released last Friday after spending 87 days imprisoned in Toronto's Den Jail.

Laos-Worried U.S. Envoys Talk It Over

HONOLULU (AP)—U.S. policy-makers, confronted by a deepening crisis in Laos, went behind closed doors Monday to chart new moves which could include military pressures against Communist North Vietnam.

State Secretary Dean Rusk and Defence Secretary Robert S. McNamara strode into U.S. Pacific Military Command headquarters for the start of two days of intensive strategy talks.

As they did so, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao apparently were trying to break up a coalition with neutralists and rightists.

They announced on the eve of the talks that they no longer recognized neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The U.S. state department refused to recognize the action as signifying collapse of the arrangement which was supposed to have kept Laos neutral in the cold war.

Although this development obviously meant a more serious situation in Southeast Asia, none of the officials taking part in the strategy talks would comment.

Laos Talks Postponed

VIENTIANE (Reuters)—Ambassadorial talks here on the Laotian crisis were postponed Monday until today in the hope more countries would join them at the last minute, diplomatic observers said.

The talks were to be held against the background of civil war and the threatened breakdown of the country's coalition government.

Priority in Commons Given Other Topics

OTTAWA (CP)—The great flag debate is being deferred to the House of Commons until next week at the earliest, Prime Minister Pearson indicated Monday.

He said two or three other items of legislation have priority and one of these is the amendment to the British North America Act needed before widows and survivors can be brought under the proposed Canada Pension Plan.

Greek-Cypriots Ask About Gun

Canadian Writer Grilled

By DON GAIN

Colonist Military Reporter

NICOSIA — Canadian writer Ralph Allen was questioned yesterday by Greek-Cypriot police about a report that he carried a gun in his car.

But the Nicosia police chief refused to tell reporters who reported Allen or when Allen arrived Friday from Canada.

British and Greek-Cypriot relations are worsening here with continued searching of British civilians and this has resulted in strong protests from the British high commissioners.

A correspondent for a London newspaper was held in the Ky-

renia police station for three hours questioning about his possession of Turkish-Cypriot press releases.

If this constitutes an offence, all foreign correspondents are in danger of arrest. Because every day there are releases given to newsmen by the Cyprus Turkish Information Service.

Meanwhile, Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, Turkish-Cypriot vice-president, has called for the United Nations Security Council to grant the UN peace force increased powers to deal with "criminal and constitutional acts" and, if necessary, to take over the government of the island.

Outdoor Centre Stalled

ALBERNI — The Alberni District Sportsmen's Association has run into a delay in its plan to set up an outdoor sports centre for the Alberni Valley.

The association plans a 96-foot by 60-foot building on Stamp River property, near the old paper mill, which was obtained from the provincial government. A logging project is contemplated to raise funds for the development.

But the executive says it has been unable to obtain a reply from the government to its request for permission to sell the timber.

The building will contain rifle ranges, committee rooms and a banquet room and picnic sites will be set up outside.

Sketches and estimates for the clubhouse already have been submitted by Brian Abbott, and Pete Haglund has been named to head a committee to dismantle bunkhouses on the property.

Work bees are scheduled each Tuesday evening. Volunteers are asked to contact Mr. Haglund, A. Easthope, Albert Grace or Red Ehret.

Comox Fliers Moving

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCAF's 409 fighter squadron based at Comox will move to the U.S. Air Force base at Falmouth, Wash., for 2½ months this summer during runway reconstruction at Comox.

The air force said Monday 18 aircraft and about 300 personnel will be moved and the jet squadron will maintain its NORAD alert commitment out of Falmouth from June 15 to Aug. 30. Falmouth is near Everett.

Around the Island

Brother Fire Hero

COURTENAY — Grant Barry, 10, carried his brother and sister to safety Saturday when flames damaged the two-room home of RCAF Opl. and Mrs. Lorne Barry, who were away at the time.

Fat left on a stove bubbled over and burst into flames. Grant carried out 16-month-old Jewell, thinking three-year-old Trevor had followed him. He later found Trevor hiding behind a chest of drawers.

NANAIMO — Thieves entered the rectory of St. Paul's Anglican Church at 29 Church Street sometime Saturday night. Rev. Canon G. H. Green-haigh said about $9 was taken.

DUNCAN — Two people received minor injuries in traffic accidents in the Duncan-Cowichan district during the weekend. Darryl White, 14, of Duncan, was a passenger in one of two cars in a rear-end collision. Duncan motorcyclist Robert John Bruce, 18, was hurt when his vehicle collided with a truck.

NANAIMO — RCMP have urged motorists to lock their cars at night and take the keys away. The warning follows five recent car thefts—four of the vehicles have been recovered—which police attribute to youths joyriding.

PORT ALBERNI — A public meeting in the building at 1411 Eighth Avenue North of the Alberni Valley Association for Retarded Children will highlight the annual meeting Saturday of the Island association. The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. and guest speaker will be Dr. S. E. Jensen, psychiatrist with the Upper Island mental health clinic.

DUNCAN — The Island section of the Chemical Institute of Canada, meeting at the Silver Bridge Inn, has elected Dr. C. A. Coleman-Porter of Shawinigan School as its president. Other officers are Dr. Neil Isaacs of the University of Victoria, treasurer; Dr. R. B. H. Creighton of Nanaimo, secretary; Art Anderson of Victoria, program, and C. J. Harvie of Nanaimo, membership.

NANAIMO — Officer/Cadet Joseph Slater, son of Staff-Sgt. Frank Slater, head of the RCMP detachment here, has graduated from the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont.

Lily Burnett

Last rites were held yesterday for Mrs. Lily Karin Burnett, who died in hospital Friday at 82 after a lengthy illness.

Born in London, England, she came to B.C. in 1900 and had lived in this area since 1918.

Funeral services will take place at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Hirst chapel for Mrs. Ida Christine Amundson, who died in hospital Sunday at 56.

A native of Sweden, she moved to Canada in 1910 and came to this district first in 1953 for a year and finally two years ago.

Bamfield cable station—far end of new road

Road to Bamfield

Ribbon-Cut Opens New Era

By MARGARET TREBETT

BAMFIELD — A new era in the history of Vancouver Island began at noon Sunday when a ribbon was cut at a new bridge over the nearby Pacheena River and the Bamfield area was officially linked by road with the rest of the island.

The population of this once-isolated hamlet of 250 souls was almost doubled by guests at the long-awaited ceremony.

BUS AND CAR

Sam Lane of Esquimalt, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island, led the group of about 150 who travelled by bus and private car over the new Alberni-Bamfield link.

The link follows MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River logging roads for the first 60 or so miles from the Alberni.

KEY BRIDGE

At the Pacheena River, two miles from Bamfield, it crosses the bridge whose construction by the provincial government last year was the key to completion of the project.

Bamfield Chamber of Commerce president Rosalind Ostrom told of sporadic efforts over half a century as successive generations envisioned the road until, finally, Mac-Powell Ltd. roads were within three miles of the community and the provincial government was persuaded to build the bridge and the last stretch.

FIRST SETTLER

Tom Barnett, MP, Mr. Lane and Mr. Ostrom gathered around as Russell Galloway of the highways department snipped the ribbon.

After the cavalcade arrived at Bamfield, E. G. Stroyan told of the first settler, J. B. McKay, coming to the area in 1900 and of the building of the cable station in 1902.

CO-OPERATION

Co-operation of many people was required to make the road become a reality, he said, expressing the hope the spirit of co-operation would continue.

Mr. Lane emphasized the tourist potential of the Bamfield area and gave credit to the "grass-roots" movement which had resulted in the completion of the road.

Chamber of Commerce delegations making the trip came from Victoria, Nanaimo, Duncan, Lake Cowichan, Parksville, Qualicum, Courtenay and both the Albernis.

Local prawns and smoked salmon were served on Brady's

Beach by the Bamfield people to approximately 175 visitors and many of the guests were passengers on a cruise aboard the Lady Rose to Cape Beale.

'We're Proud of It'

Bamfield Road 'Wonderful'

By HARRY HARRIS

COURTENAY—"It's a wonderful road and we're proud of it," Bamfield Chamber of Commerce president Rosalind Ostrom said Sunday as the ribbon was cut to open the Alberni-Bamfield road at last.

The many guests agreed with him, even though all had been up since dawn to take part in the historic trek.

Courtenay's group of 22 started off at 7 a.m. to join the cavalcade and was met two hours later by more than 100 others from all island points.

Leading the 22 cars and one bus was Mike Mendra of Courtenay, who knew the way, having served at Bamfield during the war.

Down the twisting, winding, dusty track the vehicles rolled. It is 64 miles of dry gravel. The cavalcade made, with reasonable comfort, 40 miles an hour most of the time. Parts of the way are narrow where room for only one car has been hewn from a mountain side.

Some sections of the road were rough, but with good tires and a moderate speed a traveller would have little difficulty.

Most of the drive passes through the forest management areas of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River.

A series of forests planted between 1946 and last year line the pathway.

Cars dating from about 1940 were seen at Indian homes. They have no current license plates on this private road.

At Sarita River there is a better road—the trekkers noted that roads used by company trucks are kept in the best of shape.

There are workshops and boarded-up homes at Sarita River. The road is well marked and signposts are at every intersection. A notice board at the road entrance says public use is permitted from 8:30 p.m. to 5 a.m. daily and all day Saturday, Sundays and holidays.

The cars lined up in a clearing at the Pacheena River for the ribbon-cutting ceremony on the new log bridge which runs parallel to the old, still-usable suspension footbridge.

Residents used to walk in from here.

A few short speeches preceded the cutting by Russ Galloway, construction supervisor on the project, who declared the road officially open without making any speech.

The cars were soon at Bamfield. A welcome banner was strung across the way.

In front of the main building in town, which serves as general store, post office and wharf office, a plaque was presented by Sam Lane to Mr. Ostrom "to commemorate the opening of the Bamfield-Port Alberni road May 31, 1964."

Bamfield's buildings hug the shoreline of the bay. Smart, clean fishboats are numerous. Many homes are new and substantial. An attractive church sits against a mountain wall.

Most of the travellers went on an excursion aboard the Mv Lady Rose, which now serves as one communication link between the Alberni and outlying settlement.

It made the trip to West Bamfield, giving a good look at the old Bamfield cable repeater station. The cable for Australia now leaves near Port Alberni.

There is no road at West Bamfield but a boardwalk which permits movement between buildings. The group landed at the customs wharf, and went via boardwalk and footpath one mile across a narrow peninsula to Brady's Beach.

Smoked salmon, shrimps and other seafoods were served there before the travellers re-boarded the Lady Rose and inspected the Cape Beale light-house station before returning to Bamfield and driving home.

Net increase in taxation over five years if the $3,287,000 program is instituted will amount to .26 mills or less than one-fifth of a mill per year.

327,000 capital budget bylaw to be voted on June 15 is being prepared at city hall.

Tentative plans for a town meeting type of gathering at which the capital budget would be debated by members of city council have been abandoned.

A city hall spokesman said the absence of controversy regarding the budget influenced this decision.

Fierce Pygmy Rebels Attack

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—Fierce pygmy rebels who fight with spears, arrows and machetes were reported marching Monday toward the eastern Congo city of Bukavu after routing five Congo army companies. A report that the United Nations planned to withdraw its civilian personnel from Bukavu set white Europeans to the verge of panic.

UN sources here said rebel Bakulu warriors—five-foot tribesmen led by a pro-Communist extremist—were spotted from the air moving along the road to Bukavu, a city of 80,000 population, including about 500 European whites, in Kivu province.

The UN sources said 180 Nigerian troops of the UN Congo force had been placed on alert for possible airlift to Bukavu from Leopoldville.

Spread of Attacks Feared in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—New York residents have expressed concern that a weekend series of late-night Negro attacks on whites could spread throughout the city.

One vigilante group has been set up to combat the recent series of Negro assaults on whites and another is in the planning stage.

NOT ORGANIZED

In the last 48 hours, bands of Negro marauders terrorized passengers on four separate subway trains and a Staten Island ferry boat.

The city commission on human rights said Monday the incidents are "not organized, are not part of a plot." The commission said they are spontaneous reactions to discontent by the Negro people over poverty, unemployment, housing and schooling.

State assemblywoman Aileen B. Ryan (Dem. Bronx) urged a

Hunger Strike Threatened

MONTREAL (UPI)—Convicted and suspected Quebec terrorists submitted an ultimatum Monday to provincial authorities demanding special treatment as "political prisoners" under a threat of staging a hunger strike in two weeks.

Copies of a statement signed by "the condemned members of the FLQ-ALQ," and subtitled "Liberty or Death," also were received by news media in the mails yesterday.

The statement was accompanied by a covering letter from "Paul Prie," a separatist newspaper, vouching for its authenticity.

The separatists demanded that all convicts and suspects should be "re-united in the same place in Quebec (not in St. Vincent de Paul," the federal penitentiary near Montreal); freedom from compulsory manual work; facilities for private study and the lifting of censorship on reading material.

Sheriff Out In Cold

NDF leader Robert Strachan had umbrella for himself and picketer at left yesterday, but made Nanaimo Sheriff Frank Hodgson stand in rain and insisted he read all four pages of injunction which stopped picketing at MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Harbours near Nanaimo. # GERM WARFARE CHARGE NEXT?

Stage Set By Castro

HAVANA (Reuters)—Premier Fidel Castro said Monday night quantities of an unidentified substance had been dropped on Cuban soil from the air and that he was studying whether the United States had launched germ warfare against Cuba.

Castro said in a statement handed to foreign correspondents here that a quantity of "brilliant objects" were seen falling to earth in the vicinity of Sancti Spiritus, in Las Villas province, on the morning of May 29.

The statement quoted witnesses, including members of the Cuban armed forces, who said the objects looked like balloons of different sizes and appeared to have been launched from a high altitude.

The statement said the "balloons" dissolved on hitting the earth, "discharging a gelatinous substance which rapidly diluted, similar to that used in the cultivation of bacteria cultures."

WASHED AWAY

Strong rains which fell immediately afterwards made it difficult to collect samples for chemical and biological analysis, Castro said.

"He added: The probability has been taken into consideration that imperialism is intending or studying the use of a new and more brutal and inhuman method of aggression—the use of bacteriological and virus weapons against our economy and our people. Orders have been given for the army to be carefully observed."

IT'S POSSIBLE

"Although such an action would be of extraordinary gravity and have unpredictable consequences, the lack of scruples of Yankee imperialism, its international conduct on the border of the law, makes it

Shastri Leads India

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Lal Bahadur Shastri was chosen as India's next prime minister this morning after a leading runner-up contender announced his support for the 59-year-old minister without portfolio.

Former finance minister Morarji Desai, one of Shastri's closest rivals for the succession to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru who died Wednesday, said last night the consensus of the ruling Congress party's members of Parliament was that "middle-of-the-road" Shastri should be elected parliamentary leader and thus become prime minister.

Desai said he had been informed of the party's view on the subject by party president K. Kamaraj.

First Warnings

Floods Cut Highway

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—The first flood warnings of the season were heard in the north-central British Columbia Monday after a river and a creek burst their banks.

Pine River swept away a section of the Hart Highway, 264 miles north of here, cutting the artery which links central B.C. to northern Alberta.

Findlay Creek, 150 miles to the west, washed out the approaches to three bridges along a secondary highway leading north toward Topley Landing from Topley.

Highway officials said it would take at least a day to cut a detour around the damaged Hart Highway section.

Ferry Swept Down Peace

HUDSON HOPE, B.C. (CP)—A ferry carrying 12 passengers and five cars was swept down the swift-flowing, swollen Peace River Monday.

Police said a cable, used to guide the ferry across the river, snapped. The swift current pulled both the ferry and the tug that tows it downstream. There was no steering device on the ferry.

The tug pulled close to the ferry to remove passengers before cutting it loose. No one was reported injured.

Calypso Singer Held 87 Days New Row Looms

TORONTO (UPI)—The federal immigration department faced further criticism yesterday with disclosure that a Trinidad-born Negro had been released last Friday after spending 87 days imprisoned in Toronto's Don Jail.

Harold Nurse, a Calypso singer and night club entertainer, was released on his own recognition pending further legal action by his attorney. Nurse, who had lived here since 1956 and was married to a Canadian woman, was arrested March 4. A department of immigration inquiry ordered him deported. He appealed the decision, which was upheld by the department in Ottawa March 20.

The deportation order was deferred to permit review of the case, but on May 4 the department decided to proceed with the action. Passage was booked for the man on a plane from here May 13 but he was not aboard when it left.

PLEA REJECTED

Last week a Toronto judge turned down a habeas corpus application and Nurse was booked on a flight last Saturday. But again he was not on the plane.

The case was somewhat similar to that of 27-year-old Harry Hooper, a Buffalo, N.Y., Negro who was held on an immigration department order for 100 days. He was deported last week after the department dropped a charge against him.

TURNED BACK

Nurse, unlike Hooper, was reported to have no criminal record. The case against him apparently was based on the first time he tried to enter Canada in 1956, when he was turned back at the border because he didn't have enough money.

Immigration officials contend the entry refusal constituted deportation, and Nurse re-entered Canada after being deported.

Toronto lawyer Hugh Robertson, who represents Nurse, said he plans to appeal the case to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Laos Worried U.S. Envoys Talk It Over

HONOLULU (AP)—U.S. policy-makers, confronted by a deepening crisis in Laos, went behind closed doors Monday to chart new moves which could include military pressure against Communist North Vietnam.

State Secretary Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara strode into U.S. Pacific Military Command headquarters for the start of two days of intensive strategy talks.

As they did so, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao apparently were trying to break up a coalition with neutralists and rightists.

They announced on the eve of the talks that they no longer recognized neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The U.S. state department refused to recognize the action as signifying collapse of the arrangement which was supposed to have kept Laos neutral in the cold war.

Although this development obviously meant a more serious situation in Southeast Asia, none of the officials taking part in the strategy talks would comment.

Laos Talks Postponed

VIENTIANE (Reuters)—Ambassadorial talks here on the Laotian crisis were postponed Monday until today in the hope more countries would join them at the last minute, diplomatic observers said.

The talks were to be held against the background of civil war and the threatened breakdown of the country's coalition government.

Typhoid Wave Surges Higher

ABERDEEN (AP)—Health officials reported 64 new cases of typhoid in this Scottish city Monday night. This was the largest 24-hour rise in cases since a typhoid epidemic began 12 days ago and it raised fears that a new wave in the outbreak had begun.

The new surge of cases brought to 224 the number of confirmed victims in hospitals. Another 17 persons were suspected of having typhoid.

ONLY 16 CASES

Early Monday, officials had expressed hope that the epidemic had eased. They based their optimism on the fact that only 16 cases were reported Sunday, the lowest in any 24-hour period since the epidemic began.

There were reports of scattered cases elsewhere in Scotland.

SEVEN PERSONS

A 14-year-old boy was stricken in Glasgow and seven persons were suspected cases in Elgin, 60 miles north of Aberdeen.

As they broke out with God Save the Queen, they were met with O Canada by the supporters of the proposed maple leaf design.

"GO BACK!"

They later traded anthems, along with a few uncomplicated remarks.

"Why don't you go back to Quebec?" shouted a Red Ensign bearer.

"And why don't you go back to Britain?" shot back a maple leaf supporter.

Flag Factions Trade Anthems, Insults

'Charming' Says Times

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times describes Canada's proposed new flag as "charming," and adds that it "can be made to seem more French than British."

"The maple leaf, although always a Canadian symbol, was first used by the French settlers," the paper says.

Priority in Commons Given Other Topics

OTTAWA (CP)—The great flag debate is being deferred in the House of Commons until next week at the earliest, Prime Minister Pearson indicated Monday.

He said two or three other items of legislation have priority and one of these is the amendment to the British North America Act needed before widows and survivors can be brought under the proposed Canada Pension Plan.

Mr. Pearson told Opposition

By BOB FETHICK

A knife-wielding thug took cash and jewelry valued at $3,785 from him at noon yesterday, while he was putting some money in a safe at his home at 750 Market Street, a city trucker told city police.

Kudra Ball told police he had cashed two insurance cheques at the Royal Bank of Canada, at Hillside and Quadra. One of the cheques was for $1,985, the other was for $100.

He pocketed the money, then went to the B.C. Forest mill and returned home. About an hour's time had passed.

He told police he entered his house and was just closing the door of a safe in the back room, having placed $385 inside. He kept $1,100 in his wallet.

He was about to close the safe when a man who was carrying a butcher-knife appeared behind him and told him to leave the safe open.

The man held Mr. Ball at knife point, while he rifled the safe of the $385 and $300 or $400 additional cash and a gold bracelet with five diamonds in a Pakistani design valued at $1,300, the trucker said.

Mr. Ball described the man as "needing a shave."

He took Mr. Ball's wallet with the $1,100 and told him to get into the bathroom.

The thug warned Mr. Ball

not to yell and said there was someone waiting outside.

During the time he held the robbery victim at knife point, the thug told Mr. Ball he had seen him draw a large amount of money from the bank, Mr. Ball told police.

Bank employees questioned said they were unable to recall anyone answering the thug's description in the bank.

W. E. Baker, of 753 Market, told police he had seen a man answering the thug's description at about 12:40 p.m. walking on Market Street toward Victoria.

The man was wearing a greenish windbreaker and wearing grey gloves, he said.

Greek-Cypriots Ask About Gun

By DON GAIN

Colonist Military Reporter

NICOSIA — Canadian writer Ralph Allen was questioned yesterday by Greek-Cypriot police about a report that he carried a gun in his car.

But the Nicosia police chief refused to tell reporters who reported Allen or when Allen arrived Friday from Canada.

British and Greek-Cypriot relations are worsening here with continued searching of British civilians and this has resulted in strong protests from the British high commissioner.

A correspondent for a London newspaper was held in the Ky-

renia police station for three hours' questioning about his possession of Turkish-Cypriot press releases.

If this constitutes an offence, all foreign correspondents are in danger of arrest. Because every day there are releases given to newsmen by the Cyprus Turkish Information Service,

Meanwhile, Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, Turkish-Cypriot vice-president, has called for the United Nations Security Council to grant the UN peace force increased powers to deal with "criminal and constitutional acts" and, if necessary, to take over the government of the island.
